

Two Killed in Area Auto Accidents

By WALTER S. CLARK

KINGSTON
A 50-year-old Kingston man was killed last night when the car he was driving went out of control on the State Thruway and slammed into an abutment at the Lucas Avenue overpass south of this city. His 51-year-old brother was critically injured. Meanwhile, Dutchess County authorities reported a 23-year-old Orange County ice cream truck driver, was killed last night when his truck rolled over after swerving to avoid a motorcyclist and hit an oncoming car in the Town of Wappingers. Thruway State Police identified the victim of the Kingston crash as David H. Kafka, 124 West Chestnut Street, this city. His body was removed to the county morgue at the direction of Ulster County Medical Examiner William S. Keyser for an examination and possible autopsy to determine the cause of death. Critically injured in this mishap was Saul Kafka of Sarah Wells Trail, Campbell Hall, Orange County. He was removed from the scene of the accident to Kingston Hospital by Doctors Ambulance Service. Kafka underwent emergency treatment and later was transferred by the same ambulance service to the Albany Medical Center Hospital where he was listed as critical. The survivor of the crash suffered severe head injuries, a possible broken leg and ruptured spleen and possible internal injuries. Trooper G. J. Morrissey of Troop T, who investigated with

BCI Investigator W. E. Beyea and Coroner Keyser, reported the fatal crash was investigated by Fishkill State Police who reported three other men were injured, one critically. County Medical Examiner Dr. Chester H. Golding of Wappingers Falls said Joseph A. Heck, 23, of Walden, was dead on arrival at Vassar Hospital in Poughkeepsie. The Dutchess county spec- tacular fatal crash was in- vestigated by Fishkill State Police who reported three other men were injured, one critically. County Medical Examiner Dr. Chester H. Golding of Wappingers Falls said Joseph A. Heck, 23, of Walden, was dead on arrival at Vassar Hospital in Poughkeepsie. State Police said Heck, who was driving the ice cream truck in an easterly direction on Myers Corners Road in Wappingers Falls, apparently swerved his vehicle into the westbound lane to avoid hitting an oncoming motorcycle driven by David Zammello, 22, of New Hackensack Road, Town of Wappingers, when it appeared in Heck's driving lane. Heck's truck skidded on the pavement as he made a futile attempt to return to his own lane and crashed head-on into a car operated by Joseph Raffaele, 20, of 72 West Main Street, Wappingers Falls, in- vestigators said. The ice cream truck rolled over the top of Raffaele's car and landed in an upright position in the eastbound lane. Zammello, whose motorcycle had careened off the highway, was thrown clear of the vehicle, according to troopers of Troop F. A passenger in Raffaele's automobile identified as 22-year-old Dennis McDonald of 4 Milton Lane, Glenham, was removed by ambulance to Vassar Hospital. He suffered severe head lacerations, a fracture of the spine and multiple other injuries.

The hospital described Mc- Donald's condition as critical. Zammello and Raffaele were admitted to St. Francis' Hospital in Poughkeepsie, where officials said their con- dition was fair. Both suffered multiple injuries, according to reports of the state police. Investigators reported the fatal crash is still under in- vestigation and charges are pending. Meanwhile, Kingston Trooper J. C. Mikes reported a car driven by Samuel Sackstein, 43, of Poughkeepsie, went out of control on Route 9W, Town of Ulster yesterday and slammed into a large tree. He was taken to Kingston Hospital and treated for lacerations of the forehead. Another mishap investigated by Trooper G. R. Van Allen involved cars driven by Thomas J. Myers, 19, of Saugerties, and Mary A. Mayone, 18, of Box 207, Saugerties. Miss Mayone and a passenger, Joan Speirs, 16, of 198 Market Street, Saugerties, were taken to Kingston Hospital by Fatum's Ambulance for treatment.

Student Slain In Disorders At Kansas U.

(Combined Wire Service)
A white University of Kansas freshman was shot and killed Monday night 200 feet off the school's campus in a confrontation with police. He was the second youth shot to death in a week of racial tension. Early reports by the Kansas Bureau of Investigation showed the victim, Harry Nick Rice, 18, of Leawood, Kan., was hit in the back of the head by a single bullet. Another youth was wounded in the leg and a policeman was injured by a rock during the night of violence just north of the university. "We have plenty of witnesses who saw Rice fall while fleeing officers," Assistant County Attorney Mike Elwell said today. "But no one heard any shots or saw where they came from." Merton Olds, 25, of Topeka, Kan., was shot and wounded in the calf. Olds is a graduate student at the university. "I just turned around when I heard something that sounded like firecrackers and felt a stinging sensation," Olds said. "Then I knew what happened." Douglas County Attorney Dan Young confirmed one firebombing and said at least one car was overturned in the street by black youths angered at the killing of a young Negro by a policeman last week. Police used tear gas to disperse a group of youths who earlier pelted them with rocks, bottles and other objects. No one was arrested. Patrolman Ron Dalquest suffered a deep cut over his right eye. He received several stitches at Lawrence Memorial Hospital and returned to duty. "Everything is quiet now and we hope things will stay that way," Elwell said. "However, we are as confused as anyone about what really happened."

Confrontations with police have been going on sporadically for the past year. The current series started last Friday, a day after a policeman shot and killed Rick Donald Dowdell, a 19-year-old Negro student at the university. This shooting occurred in the city's Negro section. Police said Dowdell was shot during an investigation of reports that there had been sniping in the area. Patrolman William Garrett was relieved of his duties pending a coroner's inquest into Dowdell's death. Friday night Patrolman Eugene Williams was wounded in the chest by a sniper, police said, while he was patrolling the Negro section. Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights, youths gathered near the campus, started small trash fires, taunted police and firemen and tried to burn down a vacant, condemned apartment house in the block. It is owned by a university professor and once was known as a commune for hippie types. Police wore bullet-proof vests while protecting firemen who put out the fires. Monday night's incident occurred on Oread Avenue in the first block north of the entrance to the campus.

Ellenville Vote Ruled Invalid

By JON POWERS

ELLENVILLE
Ellenville Village Trustees engaged in heated debate over Urban Renewal plans Monday night in a meeting that saw Village Attorney James J. Murray rule that an earlier Board decision empowering the Ellenville Housing Authority to apply for reservation of federal funds to construct 100 units of low income housing was invalid. The Urban Renewal discussion was prompted by a statement by Trustee David Cramer that "bigots" are beginning to control the village of Ellenville. And in another aspect, Ellenville Mayor Robert Dowling took the floor after Cramer and denied rumors that he was personally profiting from either the Urban Renewal project or the Rondout Creek Flood Control Project. According to Murray, his decision is based on a constitutional provision which stipulates that any agreement made between the village and either the state or federal governments must be approved by a majority of the entire board. The recent decision was passed by a 2-1 margin, in the absence of the two Republican trustees. Cramer, after receiving permission to make a special statement, told the Board that he has been personally blamed for the Urban Renewal delay in Ellenville. He challenged the Board to reveal the real reason why Urban Renewal has been slowed down, adding that the real cause lies in the relocation of 17 displaced persons. Cramer went on to say that Mayor Dowling, in referring to these 17 relocatees, has said "five of them are winos who don't want to relocate." Dowling later denied he made that statement. "Stating that Ellenville is 'going down and down,'" Cramer told the board that he has been called a "nigger-lover" because of his stand on Urban Renewal. He added that "The blacks have been forced against the whites and the Jews have been forced against the gentiles" in Ellenville. Cramer concluded his remarks by stating, "May God help us out of this dilemma because the Village Board sure won't." Cramer's remarks prompted a flurry of discussion on the housing problem in Ellenville. Gordon Kent, chairman of the Ellenville Housing Authority, stated that he thought the Board had been "making progress" on the matter. It was added that the main problem involves the number of housing units planned. Kent stated that there are not enough low income units available in the 60-unit plan and that neither the Board or Housing and Urban Development authorities are likely to approve a 100-unit package. Trustee Edwin Hoar, when accused by Cramer that he had bottlenecked the housing plans for "two years," retorted that he would continue to vote against plans that might not be beneficial to the village. Said Hoar, "HUD might be pushing us into a plan that we don't need," Cramer replied by stating, "What's the sense of having a housing authority if you can't trust them?" Kent later pointed out that the earlier vote approving the 100-unit package was done simply to get Ellenville's reservation for housing on the books and he added that the village probably wouldn't get 100 units anyway. Cramer added, "We might not get a commitment for 50, let alone 100, for another two years considering the present money situation."

Cramer also urged immediate action on the housing problem in Ellenville because "We stand to lose $50,000 on January 1, 1971 if we don't act now." The $50,000 is for interest on the village's urban renewal funds. With the earlier vote termed invalid by the village attorney, village officials are now forced to renew efforts to come up with a compatible solution. A meeting between Board members and officials of the Ellenville Housing Authority and Urban Renewal will be called for late in July or August to further discuss the matter. After Cramer's remarks, Mayor Dowling took the floor briefly to deny allegations that he will personally profit from the Rondout Creek flood control project. Dowling told those in attendance that, under the current project path, he stands to lose a garage that will have to be removed. He added that his payment for the garage will be $2,600 and that the money does not compensate for losing a garage. Dowling also said that he approves the current flood control route only because it benefits the village. Dowling also denied that he was making any profit from the Urban Renewal plans. "I'm not making a single penny," said Dowling.

12-Month School Program Under Study at Rhinebeck

By TIM SCHUSTER

RHINEBECK
The Rhinebeck Board of Education is seriously considering the possibility of going to the 12-month school year and will discuss the prospect formally at its August board meeting. It was decided at Monday's meeting. Board President Hans Boehm asked the members to plan to discuss the continuous school year plan at the next regular board session, and several members made comments on the far reaching implications of the idea.

John Grimm noted that the idea had been discussed several years ago, with the conclusion to temporarily abandon the scheme. Business Manager Walter Snyder said that the fiscal ramifications alone were staggering, and that much thought would have to be given to financing the plan besides discussing the other pros and cons. Boehm said it would profoundly affect the faculty bargaining if a necessity of teaching 12 months arose. He said he had heard of some instances of federal grants financing the plan for experimental purposes. In other business, Grimm was appointed to fill out a questionnaire for a Cornell professor of Industrial - management relations on whether or not the state mediation procedures worked successfully. The board will review the finished product and decide whether it should be returned for the professor's study. Regarding Mrs. Donald Bartles report on the Advisory Committee, Grimm said he thought the "Taylor Law has torn everything apart" concerning labor-management relations in the schools. Grimm also noted, on the Future Building Needs Committee, that information has been amassed in a step toward presenting a written form to the board for future building plans. Concerning taxes and the budget, Ralph Haskins said that members of the Town Board of Assessors would be working with his committee on the tax roll. He said that good cooperation had been received in the past along the line.

The board voted to continue its policy of paying the county 12 cents per land parcel for a machine tabulation of the school district tax roll. Approval was also given to advertise for bids for fuel oil for the high school and Bulkeley School buildings for next year, as well as for milk and ice cream for the cafeteria. Bids are due by Aug. 10. Two items on which bids will be received for sale by the district are a 1954 Dodge pickup truck and a used Fisher grand piano. These bids are also due Aug. 10. It was announced and resolved that the New York State Music Competition will be held at Rhinebeck May 14 and 15, 1971. Continuance of contract with the New York State High School Athletic Protection Plan, with an estimated cost of $1,549.80, was agreed upon.

Haskins reported that work on drawing up a new Policy Handbook was about "one-quarter" finished, and he expected the project completed by the end of the year. Progress has been somewhat slowed by the fact that District Principal Ralph Steeves has been ill, and is presently in Northern Dutchess Hospital. Boehm said he was in "high spirits and good shape." And Boehm reported on the Community Relations Committee, reviewing its accomplishments over the past year including the formulation of goals, the publishing of newsletters, and additional open houses. There was only one person present at the board meeting Monday night, this reporter.

Investigators Probe Death Of Columbia Hotel Owner

CLAVESBOROUGH
State and Columbia County police investigators and the district attorney's staff today combined efforts in pressing an investigation into the apparent murder of a 68-year-old owner of a well known hotel in the Town of Livingston. Victim of the baffling fatal shooting was identified by authorities as Stefan Dinga who had operated the Glencoe Mills Hotel for many years. Dinga was reportedly shot once through his right side. The bullet, which investigators said had been fired from a small caliber weapon, passed through the victim's ribs penetrating vital organs and caused massive hemorrhages, according to available information. State Police from the local substation who made the preliminary investigation said the body of the hotel owner was discovered by the victim's wife, Elizabeth, behind the bar of his hotel. The gruesome discovery was made at about 11 p.m. yesterday. Mrs. Dinga reportedly saw her husband sprawled on the floor, with blood stains on his clothing. Mrs. Dinga immediately notified State Police. Uniform and Bureau of Criminal Investigation officers went to the scene and sealed off the area as search was conducted for evidence that might aid in a solution of the crime.

Dinga was pronounced dead at the scene by Columbia county coroner's doctor Thomas Cacioppo. A preliminary examination indicated the man's death resulted from internal hemorrhages. An autopsy was ordered by County Coroner Donald Tkacy. District Attorney Roger Miner went to the scene of the shooting to investigate and assist in conducting the investigation which was in charge of Captain R. E. Boland and Lieutenant J. J. Frenampe. Authorities were reluctant when asked for details of the inquiry and it could not be learned whether investigators were in possession of the lethal weapon. At the Dinga home today a member of the victim's family said the man had operated the hotel for many years and the establishment and owner were well known in the area. She declined to answer questions of a reporter, stating the family had been advised by investigators not to discuss the case until a solution is reached. Meanwhile, it was understood, investigators were endeavoring to learn the identity of patrons who had visited the hotel prior to the discovery of the body. As far as could be learned authorities have not found anyone who heard a shot fired. The results of an autopsy were expected sometime later today. Troopers said that the investigation had turned up no motive for the shooting. Meanwhile, state police considered the case an "apparent murder."

Lenefsky Hopes to Reopen Overlook Mountain Road

WOODSTOCK — The road to Overlook Mountain remains barred and David Lenefsky, candidate for state senate, hopes to open it, first with a request to Gov. Rockefeller followed by petitions and if that fails, a law suit to open the road.

The closing of the road was first brought to general public attention by a Daily Freeman front page story in early June, when the Westchester County owner later explained the reason for the fence: he had built two mountain lodges on his property which had been frequently vandalized.

Taylor charged that "hundreds of hippies" had descended on his property, some of them breaking into the hunting lodges and stealing equipment such as sleeping bags and other camping gear. He said the fence was erected to protect his property.

The State Conservation Department has maintained a fire tower atop Overlook Mountain for many years. Taylor has given forest rangers access, providing them with a key to the barricade but he has refused to allow pedestrian traffic across his land. Negotiations with conservation officials to open the pedestrian trail have reportedly been unsuccessful.

Lenefsky, the Democrat-Liberal candidate for state senator, announced "the formation of a citizens' drive to get Gov. Rockefeller to immediately exercise the powers of state government to restore to public right the use of the access road to Overlook Mountain."

In a telegram to the governor, Lenefsky said, "six weeks ago a group of Westchester County residents barricaded the access road in Ulster County which leads to State-owned hunting, fishing, hiking and picnic areas on Overlook Mountain in Woodstock."

"The owners continue to deny that the public has pedestrian access to the road leading to public lands we have enjoyed for many years," Lenefsky continued in his telegram to the governor.

Lenefsky announced the start of an Ulster County-wide petition which would urge the state to immediately open the access road for pedestrian use. Lenefsky said, "orderly citizen action is the best way to make Albany remember the rights and needs of Ulster County. The people paid for this State land on Overlook Mountain."

DEMANDS ACTION — David Lenefsky, Democrat-Liberal candidate for state senator, stands in front of the recently erected gate at Overlook Mountain in Woodstock.

Council Rules Committee To Meet on Dogs, Mini-Parks

KINGSTON — It had been expected that the mini-park plan, proposed by Mayor Francis R. Koenig, would come out at the July meeting of the Council. However, according to the mayor, further study is warranted.

The cost of the eight parks has been estimated at $70,000 with the city receiving half that amount from the state. There have been questions on the size of the parks, equipment and supervision. Andrew J. Murphy, III, city superintendent of recreation, is expected to appear before the committee tonight to give his views on the situation. The parks are expected to contain sitting areas and some playground equipment. Approval by the state would mean their establishment next spring.

Quick's committee will also review the city's dog ordinance in detail. In past years, the Ulster County ASPCA has been paid a fee for collecting and housing dogs caught in violation of city ordinance which requires that all dogs be tagged.

Last year, the city hired its own dog catcher who turns the captured animals over to the ASPCA for detention. Questions have been raised as to the advisability of that setup.

The committee may also discuss an amendment to the city's building code requiring a six-foot fence around any swimming pool with two or more feet of water in the city. That proposal was discussed at a public hearing on July 8 and met with the general disapproval of those in attendance.

Conservatives Reelect Hoffman

PORT EWEN — Harry S. Hoffman, Jr., of Saugerties, was reelected chairman of the Ulster County Conservative Party at a meeting held recently at the Esopus Town Hall in Port Ewen.

Also reelected were William

HARRY S. HOFFMAN JR.

A. Jackson of Hurley, 1st vice-chairman, and Helen Radakovich, corresponding secretary. Elected for first terms were Louis J. Bolter, Town of Kingston, 2nd vice-chairman; Beatrice Crispell of Connelly, recording secretary; and R. Douglas Taylor of Cottekill, treasurer.

Incumbents who did not seek reelection were Wallace Mahan of Marlboro, former treasurer; Frances B. Everts of Saugerties, former recording secretary; and Charles Holland of Wallkill, former 1st vice-chairman.

The Ulster County Conservative Party County Committee held their biennial meeting to adopt their rules and regulations as well as to elect the officers for the 1970-72 term. Hoffman stressed at this meeting the expected successful candidacy of James L. Buckley for the U.S. Senate, as evidenced by "mushrooming support for Buckley by various Republican officials and committees throughout the state."

Buckley is scheduled to be a guest speaker for Ulster County Conservative Party Candidates' Night on September 28.

Construction Halted At C-H Roseton Plant

ROSETON — A labor dispute has continued to halt construction for the second day on the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation generating plant project.

According to a spokesman from Central Hudson, construction was "shut down" at the Roseton project. Local 445, International Brotherhood of Teamsters, threw picket lines around the Roseton project

Monday morning. Strikers were picketing the Burns and Roe Construction Company.

Operation of Central Hudson's existing Danskammer power plant was normal and is not being affected, according to a company spokesman.

The new plant at Roseton is being built near the present generating station on a site formerly occupied by the Jova brickworks.

Rocky Doesn't Hedge... He Backs Goodell

By United Press International
Governor Rockefeller let Syracuse Republicans know Monday night that he backs Sen. Charles E. Goodell and he expects party leaders to do the same.

"I feel very strongly regarding party loyalty and Senator Goodell is the man whom I appointed," Rockefeller said at a reception following his speech at the Maxwell School of Syracuse University.

"I think he (Goodell) has re-resented the people of this state with great integrity and courage and I think he's going to be the next senator from New York State," Rockefeller said.

In his speech, Rockefeller described his administration as "urban oriented" and pointed out that the state's revenue-sharing program grants 21 percent of state personal income tax to local governments. He repeated his call for a similar federal revenue-sharing plan which would return more income tax money to the states.

In New York City earlier, Rockefeller announced establishment of a special commission, headed by Democrat Robert F. Wagner, former mayor of New York City and ambassador to Spain, to study ways of ending the state legislature's control over local governments.

"We want to simplify their freedom of action," Rockefeller said, pointing out that because of the lack of home rule he had to "sign state legislation this year allowing a local librarian to go to a library conference."

In the U.S. Senate race, Rep. Richard L. Ottinger was endorsed by fellow Democrat Eugene Nickerson, Nassau County executive.

Nickerson combined his endorsement with an attack on Rockefeller appointee and former secretary to the governor William J. Ronan, chairman of the Metropolitan Transportation Authority.

"I don't know how long we're going to allow Mr. Ronan to continue killing and maiming and injuring people before we get him out of that job," Nickerson said after mentioning that there were two subway collisions in 60 days with two killed and 107 injured.

Ottinger agreed with Nickerson and called for a grand jury investigation of the MTA.

"There's no preventive maintenance on the Long Island Rail Road and the subway system," Ottinger said. "You have to hold Mr. Ronan, who is the head of the operation, responsible."

Goodell, in Washington, gave a buffet for a group of 15 "mothers for peace" lobbying for an end to the war in Southeast Asia.

Goodell also joined with Sen. Charles McC. Mathias, R-Md., in urging rejection of what they consider unconstitutional provisions of the District of Columbia crime legislation.

Goodell charged some provisions of the bill are unconstitutional and others undesirable. He said some senators support the compromise through "fear there will be no crime bill" if the measure is rejected.

But he said substitute measures, which omit the controversial "no-knock" prevention detention, and wiretapping sections, are ready and can be rushed through the Senate.

The New York senator told his colleagues that the bill should be rejected because the "no-knock" provision represents "obnoxious policy, bad law, and is likely to be unconstitutional."

Mathias said he opposed the compromise "with considerable reluctance."

Army Denies Manhandling Charges

CAPT. MacDONALD (L) AND ATTORNEY DENNIS EISMAN

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (UPI) — The Army denied accusations Monday military police roughed up two attorneys for a Green Beret officer charged in the knife murder of his wife and two young daughters.

The lawyers, Dennis Eisman and Bernard Segal, both of Philadelphia, said they were manhandled by MPs who stopped their car and took their client, Capt. Jeffrey MacDonald, into "protective custody."

Two reporters said they saw the incident and they contradicted the Army version. A reporter for the Fayetteville (N.C.) observer said a Criminal Investigation Division (CID) agent threw Eisman to the ground and pushed Segal. A Raleigh News and Observer reporter also backed this version.

The Ft. Bragg Office of Public Information said in a statement that Eisman "stood as to block the military police from reaching MacDonald," but before he was touched. "Mr. Eisman wrenched himself violently and either fell or threw himself to the ground."

MacDonald is charged with the murders of his wife and two young daughters, found stabbed and beaten in their on-base apartment Feb. 17. A hearing is under way to determine if the Army has enough evidence to court-martial the captain.

Federal Court Judge Algeron Butler ruled Saturday the case was not in his jurisdiction. The Army notified a military defense lawyer for MacDonald that Monday morning they would take the hair sample.

When military police and CID agents arrived Monday morning at MacDonald's bachelor headquarters where he has been staying since the slayings, the Green Beret captain already had left for the hearing room.

The hearing recessed later in the morning and MacDonald left in a car along with Eisman and Segal. Military police followed MacDonald and the attorneys and a jeep loaded with MPs forced the car to stop at an intersection.

Eisman began to argue with the military policemen and, according to the reporters and Eisman, one CID agent walked up and threw Eisman to the ground. Eisman said he landed "about 10 feet from where I stood." Eisman said Segal was pushed up against one of the cars.

The Army said that after MacDonald was taken into custody, investigators obtained the hair samples they needed "without incident."

Bus Driver Faces Criminal Charges

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Criminal charges will be filed against the driver of a bus that crashed near here Wednesday, killing seven children and injuring 52 other persons, Lehigh County Dist. Atty. George Joseph said Monday.

In a news conference, Joseph said state police will file seven charges of involuntary manslaughter Tuesday against Hubert Daye, 44, of Montclair, N. J. He said Daye will be arraigned as soon as he is able to leave the hospital.

Daye was injured in the crash and was listed in fair condition in the intensive care cardiac section of Allentown Hospital.

Joseph also announced, "We are at this time studying the possibility of filing charges against another individual or individuals associated with the Tedesco Bus Co. the owner of the bus."

Lehigh County Judge Donald Wieand refused Monday to stop state police from continuing the examination of the wrecked bus. The request for an injunction to halt the examination was filed by an attorney who said he represented the insurance firm covering the Tedesco Bus Co.

Joseph revealed investigators have located an eyewitness to the crash but refused to identify him. The unidentified witness was scheduled to be further interviewed later this week.

The district attorney said that when investigators opened a tachograph—a device which is supposed to record the bus's speed—they found there was no paper recording disc in the tell-tale device. The vehicle's speed could be a crucial factor.

The accident occurred on a reverse turn on U. S. 22 about 15 miles west of here near New Smithville. The bus, loaded with 49 children and 10 adults on an overnight sightseeing trip from the Hillel Country Day School from Lawrence, N. Y., skidded on the rain-slicked highway, tore through a section of guard rail, and plunged down a 50-foot embankment.

Meanwhile, the Pennsylvania Transportation Department announced plans to make the section of highway that has been the scene of similar mishaps safer.

GS Camp Program Underway

WALLKILL

Camp Wendy, operated by Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts opened its resident camp this season after a lapse of one year, with a full encampment of Brownies, Juniors and Cadettes.

Swimming instruction, boating and canoeing, cookouts, hikes, nature and conservation, crafts, singing, archery are but part of the fun and activity at Wendy, with horseback riding and sailing offered for the first time this year. A special attraction this past week was a square dance for all campers, under the direction of Ron Sanders of Woodstock, well known folk dance instructor whose group performs at many functions in this area.

Four units of more than 100 girls learn to live comfortably out of doors, earning badges while learning new skills and making new friends, with the help of well qualified staff.

Directing the Camp is Mrs. Ronald Hill of Kingston, with the help of the following staff members: Nurse, Mrs. William Miller, Lake Katrine; Water Safety Instructor and Waterfront Director, Ira Nussbaum, Kingston; Art Consultant, Mrs. Alex Plonsky, Hurley; Riding and Senior Life Saving, Mrs. Gail Appel, Wallkill; Head Cook, Mrs. Pearl Smith, Marlboro; Assistant Cook, Mrs. Palmira Yeaple, Marlboro; Handyman, Mr. Edward Smith, Wallkill; Unit Leaders: Sharon Hoffman, Saugerties; Mrs. John Flood, Kingston; Mrs. Norman Lovitch, New Paltz; Harriet Hults, Kingston; Nancy Riefflin, Rochester. Unit Assistants: Mrs. William Seabury, Ulster Park; Mary Pat Molloy, Shokan; Linda Murdoch, Woodstock; Sue Plonsky, Hurley. Junior Counselors: Cynthia Holliday, New Paltz; Sue Schaaf, Judy Hanson, Maureen Fagan, Kathy Gorman, Kingston; waterfront staff: Kathy Lyle, Sue Plonsky, Joanne Grieco, Kathy Gorman, Kingston and Linda Murdoch, Woodstock.

Camp Wendy, which is located in Wallkill is operated for a year round program of day, troop and resident camping, by the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts, a member of the Ulster County Community Chest.

Registrations are still being accepted for Singing Pines Day Camp at Camp Wendy in Wallkill.

For the first time this year, bus service is provided for the campers. Buses will travel the following routes:

Bus 1 — Marlboro, Milton, Highland via Route 9W — Clintondale, Modena via Route 44-55 — Plattekill Route 32 to New Hurley Road — Plains Road to Camp Wendy.

Bus 2 — Kingston, Rosendale, Tillsen, New Paltz via Route 32 — Route 208 to Wallkill School — to Camp Wendy.

Cost of transportation is included in the overall fee.

At Singing Pines campers 7 to 17 can enjoy group activities in campcraft, nature study, conservation and singing. Swimming and small craft skills using canoes and rowboats will be included in the program.

Dates for the eight day sessions are July 27, 28, 29, 30, August 3, 4, 5, 6.

We of WGHQ wish to acknowledge with heartfelt thanks the contributions that have helped make it possible for us to win this top award for all New York State broadcasters. We especially wish to say thank you to the following individuals and groups:

Ulster County Clerk Albert Spada and Staff, Sheriff William Martin and Staff, Boy Scouts of America, Young Marines, Daughters of the American Revolution, V.F.W. Auxiliary, Kingston High School A Capella Choir and student buglers, and Justices of the New York State Supreme Court, all of whom contribute so significantly to the most outstanding and stimulating Naturalization Proceedings several times each year at the Ulster County Court House, which we broadcast on each occasion.

We pay particular tribute also to the Kingston Savings Bank for sponsorship of the broadcasts by WGHQ in the public interest in order to better direct the interests of the general public toward the values and true meaning of American citizenship.

Without the support of one and all of the aforementioned we doubt that our efforts would have been such as to bring us the #1 recognition for all radio stations throughout New York State.

Girl's Body Found, Abductor Is Sought

LAURIE MURNINGHAM
... Positive Identification

LANSING, Mich. (UPI) — Two boys walking along a rural road near here found the body of Laurie Murningham, 16, the object of an intense police search since she was kidnapped during a holdup 12 days ago. Her abductor remained at large today. Lansing Police Chief Derold Husby vowed he would "leave no stone unturned until the person or persons responsible for the tragedy are brought to justice."

The body of the pretty, blonde daughter of Max E. Murningham, former mayor of this state capital, was found Monday in high grass and weeds near a lake about 15 feet from the road. She was clad in the white blouse, red belt and blue miniskirt she wore when she was abducted July 9 from the gift shop where she was employed for the summer. Identification was confirmed through dental comparison, Husby said. The cause or time of death was not immediately determined but Husby said he would reveal the results of an autopsy at a news conference today (noon EDT).

Murningham, who spent the early days of the investigation at the Lansing Police Department working with police, was not available for comment, nor were other members of the family.

Gerald W. Graves, Lansing's mayor, said he was "stunned and greatly grieved by this senseless crime. Our hearts and prayers go out in deepest sympathy to Laurie's family."

Miss Murningham was kidnapped from Gallagher's Gift Shop by a gunwielding bandit during a holdup which netted $60. The owner of the store, Mrs. Christine Gallagher, was pistol-whipped by the man. And when she recovered from her injuries was able to help an artist draw a picture of him.

That picture, along with a recent photograph of Miss Murningham was widely circulated, particularly among truck drivers, in the hope of determining where the two had gone.

'Little Good in Every Thief,' Man Then Kills Two Hostages

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (UPI) — "There's a little good in every thief," the heavyset gunman told his three hostages. Then he shot and killed two of them, both women, and critically wounded a man.

The wounded man, Bruce E. Reitz, 39, night manager of a Western Union office, crawled to a highway Monday morning to alert police to the kidnapping-murder in this fashionable Miami suburb. Reitz was hospitalized with two gunshot wounds in the head.

The killer, described as a bespectacled Latin about 5-foot-11, 200 pounds and 40 years of age, still was at large today. He is wanted for the slaying of Mrs. Blanche Delores Wheeler Palacino, 42, and Judy Mary Messick Lamb, 40.

Reitz told police the gunman took him and Mrs. Lamb hostage Sunday night.

The man robbed the Western Union office Monday morning, also taking Mrs. Palacino as a hostage, and forced them to drive to an overgrown tomato field 10 miles south of downtown Coral Gables. The gunman ordered his hostages to lie down in the weeds, then stripped two rings off Reitz' fingers, asking if he would miss the rings.

"Yeah, I guess I would,"

Reitz replied. He said the gunman tossed the rings back to him on the ground and said: "There's a little bit of good in every thief." Then he opened fire on the three.

Mrs. Palacino, the day manager of the office, and Mrs. Lamb died en route to Baptist Hospital. Reitz was unconscious for a while, but managed to survive the wounds. He was in critical condition today.

The amount of money the gunman took from the safe at the Western Union office was not immediately known. Company auditors said it was between $400 to $3,000.

Reitz and Mrs. Lamb, a divorcee, first encountered the gunman Sunday night when they returned about 10:40 p.m. to an apartment they shared. The gunman jumped them inside and ordered Reitz to open the Western Union office. Reitz convinced the gunman they would have to wait until 7 a.m., when the timed burglar alarm at the office switched off.

At 7 a.m., the gunman put Mrs. Lamb in the trunk of their returned about 10:40 p.m. Reitz' car and drove to the office, where Mrs. Palacino already was at work.

Upstate Search Continues For Five Escaped Prisoners

BUFFALO (AP) — Five escaped prisoners from the Erie County Penitentiary remained at large today despite an all-day manhunt Monday by sheriff's deputies.

The five escaped from the penitentiary in suburban Wende Sunday night. Deputies said the men removed bricks from a prison building, then used a ladder left by workmen to scale a 20-foot wall.

A force of 300 men and three bloodhounds searched the area around the Genesee County village of Corfu Monday afternoon after one of the hounds picked up a prisoner's scent. Heavy rains hampered that operation, and no prisoners were found.

Among the escapees was Rodney R. Haymes, 24, of Buffalo. Haymes, described by deputies as dangerous and suicidal, was awaiting trial on charges of murder in the sniper-style rifle slaying of Frank Jarczak, 25, of Buffalo.

Jarczak was shot twice June 29, 1969 as he left the home of Haymes' estranged wife.

The other escaped prisoners were:

Joffre Gellibert, 24, of Lackawanna. Gellibert had a record of burglary and grand larceny arrests and was awaiting trial on charges of second degree burglary.

Michael Gemboys, 25, of Buffalo, charged with criminal possession of forged instruments.

Daniel Sylvia, 34, of Buffalo, charged with attempted rape.

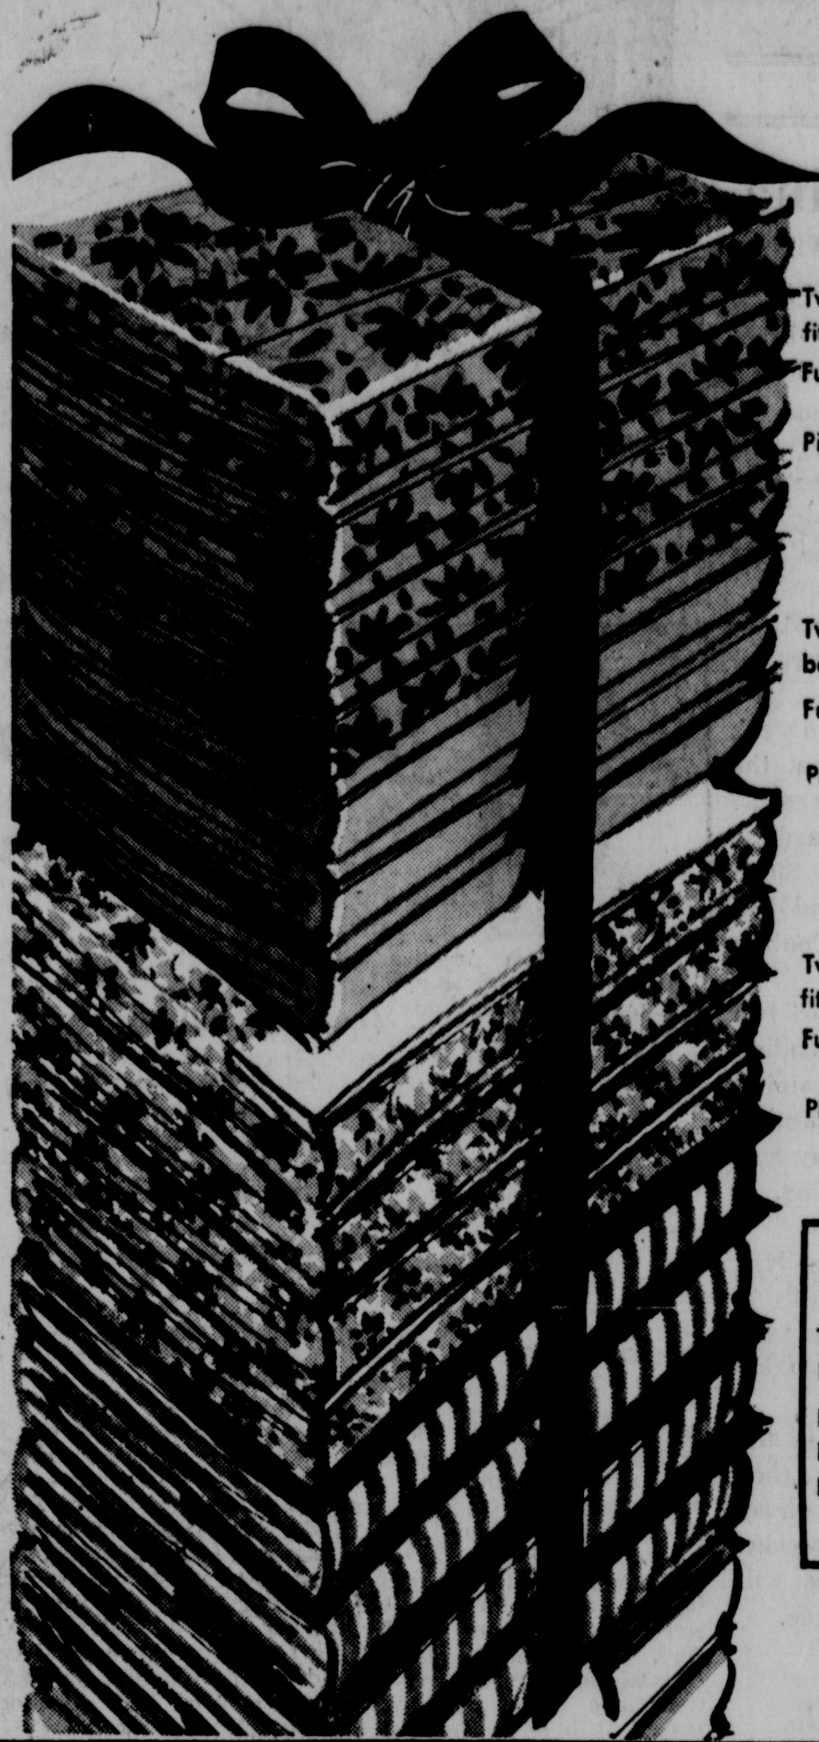

Frank Jabo, 22, of Buffalo, charged with possession of a dangerous weapon.

Authorities said the five apparently used a fork to pry mortar from between bricks in the ground floor wall of a detention area. Bits of paper were found on the floor, indicating the prisoners replaced the mortar with paper to hide their scheme, deputies said.

Peace View in Indochina

Without advance notice, Secretary of State William P. Rogers appeared at the State Department daily news briefing the other day to express his views of the prospects for peace in Indochina. The importance to be attached to his statement was so high that he chose to make it himself. He wanted no room for misunderstanding, inasmuch as in London he had already speculated that a "no war, no peace" conclusion was possible.

By no war, no peace, Rogers explained he was referring to a possible alternative in which there would be no formal war ending—but South Vietnam could be functioning successfully while still under small terrorist attacks.

The secretary of state, just returned from a two-week trip to Asia and Britain, was not optimistic about the peace prospects in Southeast Asia, not for the present. The Cambodia incursion, he said, had increased hardline Communist China's influence in North Vietnam. Since sheltering ousted Prince Sihanouk, Peking's hand has been strengthened because Sihanouk offers an alternative to the military regime in Cambodia.

However, Rogers thinks this is true for the short run only. Given time, and Rogers insists that the Cambodian incursion has won the time to complete the training of the South Vietnamese army, the North Vietnamese and perhaps the Soviets and even the Chinese may still decide that there ought to be serious peace talks. A negotiated peace is not out of the question.

"I have always felt, and I still feel, that there is a reasonable prospect that you can end this war by a negotiated settlement," Rogers concluded. Otherwise, there would be no reason to send Ambassador David K. E. Bruce to Paris August 1.

The Communist side was taken by surprise in the Cambodian affair. For the next couple of months, they will probably deal in invectives to express their spleen. After they accept their reverses, they may begin serious talks. This is the hope, and Bruce's appearance will remove their diplomatic objections to talking peace.

Police-Student Group

Not familiarity but the lack of it has bred much of the mutual contempt felt toward each other by police and college students.

Michael Diamond, 25-year-old graduate student in psychology at Stanford University, decided he had to do something about this when he saw "students persecuting the police and the police treating students like animals" during riots that erupted on the campus in protest to the Cambodian invasion.

He announced the formation of a "Police-Student Depolarization Group" and soon found himself with 40 volunteers who wanted to participate in the experiment. Local police departments, many of whose men had been called to quell serious rock-throwing disturbances, were delighted to co-operate.

Student volunteers began riding police beats in their spare time, often in the small hours of the morning, finding out just what a policeman's job is like.

"We learned a lot," says Diamond. "We found out that there are many skills a policeman has, from rendering first aid, quieting distraught parents, refereeing family fights and all the other things that are a far cry from dramatic confrontations with rioting students."

Police, in turn, invited to dinners and "rap" sessions at dormitories and fraternities, found that students are people, too, with views worth listening to on the war, drug laws and other subjects.

Diamond would like to see his "depolarization" experiment take hold on a national scale, with similar programs centered around every university in the country.

For sure, nothing good will ever come from throwing rocks, banging heads or shouting "pig" at each other.

Test of Voting at 18

Suits to enforce voting at 18 will be filed against any state that does not pledge compliance by August 3. This announcement by Attorney General John N. Mitchell marked the government's determination to move decisively to enforce the new law.

Refusal of a state to promise compliance would set the stage for a swift court test of the lowered voting age. Recalling that the President ordered the court test when he signed the law into effect last month, Mitchell's announcement would seem to invite refusals so that a test can be taken immediately, in order to get clearance from the Supreme Court by the time the law would go into effect January 1.

The President and his Attorney General have cast doubt on the Constitutionality of the law, which was simply passed by Congress and signed by the President. They believe it will require a Constitutional amendment to lower the voting age nationwide. If none of the states decided to challenge the law, then a taxpayers' suit brought in New York will be the test. One way or the other, the Constitutionality of the law will be tested by January 1.

"Sorry About that, but the Boys Across the Street Can Patch You Up!"

Henry J. Taylor Says End of Hitler's Fortress

PARIS — On August 25, 1944, an overcast day, the Germans surrendered this city 1,432 days, three hours, 52 minutes after their Panzers first entered the Porte de la Villette. It marked the true end of Hitler's Fortress Europe and is an eerie recollection here for me.

Gen. Jacques Leclerc was the nom de guerre of brave and dashing Philippe de Hauteclocque who fulfilled Gen. Charles de Gaulle's determination that Paris be liberated by the French. His statue stands today at the Porte d'Orleans. I had been with Leclerc in his Sahara tank battles against Field Marshal Erwin Rommel and entered Paris with him and his 2nd Armored Division.

Now again, as so often through the centuries in this loveliest city of them all, the streets were full of murder. And, once again, history saluted the city's statue of St. Genevieve, whose prayers stayed Attila and saved Paris. The heaviest fire against us began at the Eiffel Tower. There, too, our column's rifle-men somehow cornered Nazi Gestapo chief Karl Oberg, certainly the most-hated man in France.

When renegade Premier Pierre Laval returned to power in 1942 he immediately ordered the arms reserved for the French Armistice Army turned over to the Germans. The French Resistance had three main clandestine radio transmitters in this city — Pleye Violet, Montparnasse Black and Apollo Black. Laval authorized the radio tracking trucks of the German's system of direction-finding, used to zero in on such transmitters, and also authorized the German police and the Gestapo in the Free Zone.

On August 25, 1944, Karl Oberg's Gestapo held 2,504 Resistance prisoners in this city's Fresnes and Romainville prisons. The Resistance lost 105,000 members — some 30,000 were executed and 75,000 died in Nazi concentration camps. Meanwhile 1.8 million Frenchmen were prisoners of war.

Ironically, a Nazi prison flanked the Pont de la Concorde, which contains the Bastille's stones. Nearly a thousand Parisian Resistance women had died there. The last line of a Zola novel comes to mind: "Jeanne lay facing Paris forever and ever." And the grim execution yard seemed to echo one woman's brave cry to her fellow-prisoners: "I love you and I know we will meet again."

Leclerc's lead tanks turned down the Champs Elysees. It was studded with abandoned concrete pillboxes, the German Wehrmacht's indestructible contribution to European architecture. At the Place de la Concorde the Germans were roping French civilians to German tank turrets to protect themselves in their retreat. Shouting to a fleeing German officer with typical Gallic éclat, French writer Colette struck the note: "Alors, you're jilling us?"

We bypassed the embattled Hotel Maurice, where General Dietrich von Choltitz, the German military governor, was holed up. We reached the Louvre. German dead were on the stairs. So were several Russians in German uniforms. There were more than 200,000 dissident Russian troops in the German army, former war prisoners recruited to the German side.

We found much of the Louvre bare. The French had hidden their very greatest art treasures, of course, but the Nazi looting experts include Berlin art authorities and appraisers known as the E.R.R. Group. It assembled in France alone 138 freight-car loads — 4,175 packing cases containing 21,902 art objects. The Soviet art looting of Germany and Poland, in turn, was as official — if not as fruitful — as the Nazi looting of France.

We struck at once for Notre Dame. We crossed the Pont St. Thomas Aquinas where Lutetia's gates had opened and the Tatars entered Paris. Leclerc's tanks faced the cathedral's main Portal of the Last Judgment. The quick seizure of Notre Dame was important because, knowing the cathedral would not be bombed, the Nazis had built their main communications center under the 800-year old stones. Their second was under Napoleon's tomb.

The French Communists — the FTP — were the most powerfully armed group in the Resistance. They had 25,000 armed men in Paris. But the French Communists did not fight the Germans until Hitler invaded Russia. And their struggle for power in France on the day we entered this city was a war within France's war with the Germans. General Leclerc himself was ambushed — and barely escaped — in a withering barrage of Communist bullets. So was I — an eerie, eerie recollection here as I leave Europe to return home in a world where freedom is still under attack.

Those in America and elsewhere who live by stereotypes, and there are always too many, profess to see in this sense of order some fatal cue that translates first into excessive discipline and then into a perilous tendency toward autocratic rule and repressive, militaristic behavior.

Though it is clear that fear of a restored Germany (already an incredibly accomplished fact) is very real in eastern Europe and the Soviet Union, I think a change has been wrought.

It is a generation in time since the 12 wild years of Hitler's frenzy of fire and death. You will not often today find his name graven anywhere on stone, and when you do, it will not be in celebration, as the French still glorify the all-conquering Napoleon.

In West Berlin, I stood with a German woman, mother of two children, before a memorial wall which bore Hitler's name. Behind it lay the hanging room of a prison where the Nazi dictator executed 1,800 German political prisoners. She said: "The first time I came here I could not say one word."

She hates even to look at Berlin's massive Olympic stadium, for when the games took place there in 1936 Hitler was at his peak and his armed, uniformed hordes packed the great oval for all the world to see.

It cannot be forgotten that World War II was a much sterner lesson for Germany than World War I, when for all the military losses the nation was untouched by the winning allies. The second time, on top of Germany's (including Austria) 3.5 million battle deaths, millions more died as British and American bombers pounded German cities into crushed stone and left the acrid smell of burning flesh in the survivor's nostrils. They, and many who have come after, hold the memory strong. Some are beset with guilt. Others are not, though they voice resolve that such slaughter shall not again be initiated by Germans. Despite

Jack Anderson Says It Takes 100,000 Bullets To Stop Each Viet Cong

WASHINGTON — It takes 100,000 bullets, statistically speaking, to kill or maim a Viet Cong.

This is the conclusion of a classified Defense Department study, which puts the total number of small arms rounds fired in combat each year at 2.5 billion.

Bullets cost a nickel to a dime apiece. To gun down a Viet Cong with small arms fire, therefore, costs the taxpayers between $5,000 and $10,000.

There are no figures for the estimated 80 per cent of all casualties caused by artillery, bombs, mines and other methods of mayhem.

The classified study, prepared under contract with Secretary of Defense Mel Laird's office, relies upon the controversial body counts which are the best available figures for casualties. For the purposes of the study, it is also assumed that one enemy soldier is wounded for each one killed.

Critics say the body counts are too high. If this is true, it takes more than 100,000 bullets to do in a Viet Cong.

In any case, the price of death on the battlefield has gone up. It took only 20,000 bullets to produce an enemy casualty in World War II.

Nixon's Economic Woes
Despite signs that the economy may have bottomed out and may now be creeping up, President Nixon doesn't expect a significant upturn before the November elections.

He is prepared to blame economic conditions upon past Democratic policies and to predict a bright Republican future. But privately, he expects the economic lag to counteract the conservative tide that otherwise, he believes, would help the Republicans.

The President is painfully aware of the political damage a faltering economy can cause. He attributes his own defeat in the 1960 presidential election to an economic downturn.

In the privacy of his oval office, Nixon blames the Federal Reserve Board for failing to loosen monetary controls adequately to expand the money supply. He appointed his chief economic counselor, Dr. Arthur Burns, as Federal Reserve Chairman, expecting Burns would be able to persuade the other board members to adopt an easier-money policy.

"Burns has had a difficult time moving them," grumped the President at a private White House meeting.

Paul McCracken, the President's chief economic advisor, assured him that the supply of money was now expanding.

"We are going to have larger than ordinary rates of monetary expansion," promised McCracken. "In '68, we overshot at 7 to 8 per cent. Now we need to come back up from about 3 per cent to about 15 per cent."

"The Fed is usually too late on expanding and too early on holding back," said the President, sourly.

One thing was certain, McCracken agreed. "People aren't going to be able to hold more money than the Federal Reserve creates."

$42,000 Boondoggle

Such fabulous military boondoggles as the C5A contract overrun have given the public the wrong impression about Pentagon spending. They think the brass hats waste all the public's money on big projects.

This is not so. The generals also throw away thousands every year on smaller projects.

Take, for instance, the uniforms worn by lady librarians on Army posts all over the world.

Every librarian is given $120 a year to maintain her uniform, a blue and white outfit with a hat like the WACS used to wear. There are about 350 librarians, so this little uniform subsidy comes to $42,000 a year.

The Army says the librarians wear the uniforms "as a means of ready identifications" — in other words, so you'll know the lady behind the main desk is a librarian and not a pretender.

Footnote: some librarians, being unconstructed civilians, have resigned rather than wear the doughty outfits.

Why Richmond Fell

Senator John Tower, the Texas bantam rooster, went to Richmond to work the back rooms in behalf of Senator Harry Byrd, Jr., the renegade Virginia Democrat.

As chairman of the Senate Republican Campaign Committee, Tower is eager to elect a Republican Senate in November. He considered Byrd the strongest candidate and tried to persuade Virginia Republicans to give Byrd the GOP nomination.

But Governor Linwood Holton, the first Republican to govern Virginia in 84 years, didn't want to share control of the GOP organization with a rival as powerful as Byrd.

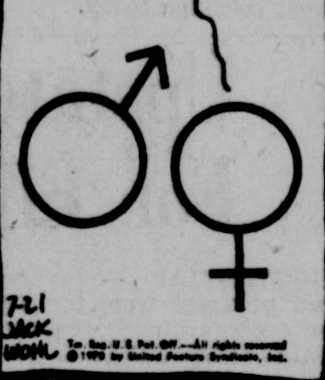

White House aide Harry Dent slipped down to Richmond to help Tower in the back rooms. But another White House aide, Harry Flemming, passed the word that the President was neutral on the nomination. The word was effectively spread by state chairman Warren French that Flemming, not Byrd, really spoke for the White House. Result: Byrd didn't get the Republican nomination and is now running as an independent.

Later, Tower encountered Dent at the White House. "I thought you were going to take care of things in Richmond," said Tower accusingly.

Dent shrugged his shoulders. "Richmond fell," he replied laconically.

Germany Mirrors Great Drive

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

NEA Washington Correspondent
MUNICH, GERMANY.

(NEA) — Before I could crumple a sugar-cube wrapper and toss it in a dinner table ashtray, a German had reached out and done it for me. It was book form. The Germans detest litter, and there is almost none to be seen in their cities, along highways, anywhere.

Those in America and elsewhere who live by stereotypes, and there are always too many, profess to see in this sense of order some fatal cue that translates first into excessive discipline and then into a perilous tendency toward autocratic rule and repressive, militaristic behavior.

Though it is clear that fear of a restored Germany (already an incredibly accomplished fact) is very real in eastern Europe and the Soviet Union, I think a change has been wrought.

It is a generation in time since the 12 wild years of Hitler's frenzy of fire and death. You will not often today find his name graven anywhere on stone, and when you do, it will not be in celebration, as the French still glorify the all-conquering Napoleon.

In West Berlin, I stood with a German woman, mother of two children, before a memorial wall which bore Hitler's name. Behind it lay the hanging room of a prison where the Nazi dictator executed 1,800 German political prisoners. She said: "The first time I came here I could not say one word."

She hates even to look at Berlin's massive Olympic stadium, for when the games took place there in 1936 Hitler was at his peak and his armed, uniformed hordes packed the great oval for all the world to see.

It cannot be forgotten that World War II was a much sterner lesson for Germany than World War I, when for all the military losses the nation was untouched by the winning allies. The second time, on top of Germany's (including Austria) 3.5 million battle deaths, millions more died as British and American bombers pounded German cities into crushed stone and left the acrid smell of burning flesh in the survivor's nostrils.

They, and many who have come after, hold the memory strong. Some are beset with guilt. Others are not, though they voice resolve that such slaughter shall not again be initiated by Germans. Despite endless stories of the rise of neo-Nazism, only a relative few would do it all again, and their political strength today is woefully unimpressive.

Still, the German drive, the German ambition, is undiminished. This beautiful city, which many Germans call their "secret capital," is a lovely restoration of the best in the nation's storied past.

One hardly would know 40 per cent of it had been wiped out by allied bombers. The great old churches, the halls and museums are all there as if untouched. The one reminder is a great pile of fragmented brick and stone, grass-covered, at the site where Munich in 1972 will play host to the Olympics.

A bus barker may point out where, in 1923, Munich police crushed Hitler's famed "beer hall putsch," killing some of his followers and setting back for years his rise to power. But the story is told tonesslessly. If Munich is the restored museum of old Germany, cities like Frankfurt am Main (the new great commercial and financial hub), Düsseldorf, Duisburg, Hannover and Hamburg have been rebuilt mostly in a modern mold that conveys the country's postwar economic resurgence. High-rise dwellings set in spreading green suburbs impart a gloss of newness in many places.

In the busy Ruhr and nearby zones, a third of West Germany's 60 million people now cluster. Huge industrial complexes rise from the twisted wreckage left by the allied bomber runs of 1942-45. The Rhine's unbroken flow of commercial barge traffic makes Holland's Rotterdam today the world's biggest ocean port, serving the churning interior of revived Europe.

For all its immense driving force, its fabled capacity for hard, disciplined work, the new Germany is not immune to currents that trouble other lands. In Berlin and Heidelberg, students — some nihilistic, some provocatively Red, many just bewildered — rebel now and then as in America and elsewhere. The old family structure, always a bulwark, has weakened. Crime abounds in some cities, sex seems almost a mania, and Germany's rebirth has a hard materialistic look.

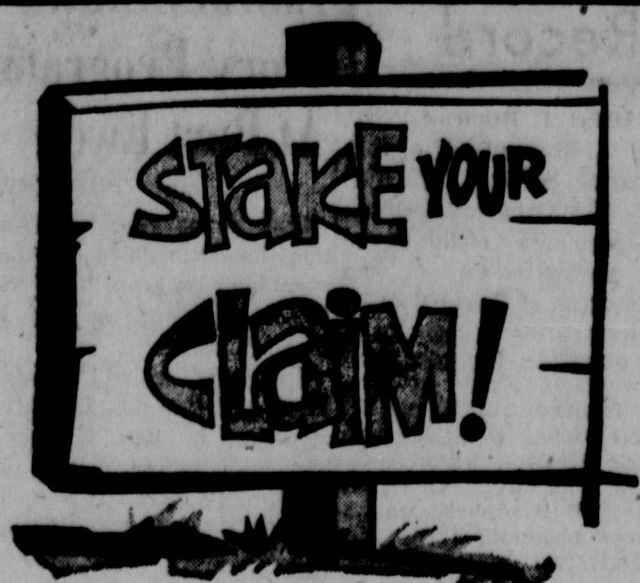

Countless Germans sense the lack even as they push on. Like our own puzzled millions, they are looking for some new uplifting spirit.

Local Resident In Training at Scouting Ranch

KINGSTON
George W. Poythress, 2 Hemlock Court, Saugerties, is participating in one of Scouting's most unique training programs at Philmont Scout Ranch and Explorer Base, the "University of the Great Outdoors."

He is enrolled in the Exploring Conference, which is part of a national training program organized by the National Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Poythress serves as Council Explorer Advisor in the Rip Van Winkle Council, BSA which coordinates scouting for the boys of his area.

Accompanying the Scouters while they are in training at the base located at Cimarron, N.M., more than 4,000 members of their families will be taking advantage of the full program of activities offered for all age groups.

Attending some of the special programs available for women, Mrs. Poythress is sharing the study-vacation period with her husband and their daughter, Janet.

Cost of Living Up Four-Tenths But Food Down

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The cost of living climbed again in June by four tenths of one percent but food prices went down and the rate of increase for some other things slowed noticeably, the government reported today.

The monthly consumer price index showed that food prices declined on a seasonally adjusted basis, as is customary in the summer.

But higher prices for used cars, homes and most types of consumer services increased to offset the lower food costs to put the general price level at 135.2. This meant that in June, goods and services that cost $10 in the 1957-1959 base period cost $13.52.

The Labor Department which compiles the index said commodity prices "rose significantly" in June than in May. The report also said "The rates of increase in prices of both durables and nondurables other than food both slowed noticeably."

Bureau of Labor Statistics had reported earlier that consumer prices rose 0.6 percent in April and 0.4 percent in May, but today's report said these had been adjusted to 0.5 percent in each month.

The monthly increases in the consumer price index have ranged from 0.4 to 0.6 percent in the past year. At 0.4 percent a month, the annual rate of rise would be 4.8 percent.

Youth Arrested On Two Charges

NEW PALTZ
A 20-year-old youth was taken into custody Monday night by police on charges of disorderly conduct and criminal possession of dangerous drugs sixth degree.

Richard H. Wood of 60 Church Street, this village, was arraigned before Town Justice Rexford Schneider. He pleaded innocent and was held in $350 bail pending a hearing.

Assault Charge

Peter Baumann, 35, of 8 Hillcrest Avenue, Woodstock, was arrested Monday night by police on a charge of third degree assault after his wife, Diane, complained that the defendant assaulted her in their home. Baumann was held in $5,000 bail after arraignment before Police Justice James R. Myers, who ordered an examination.

Saugerties Patrolmen Issue an Ultimatum

SAUGERTIES
Patrolman Harry Vickery appeared before the Saugerties Village Board members at Monday night's meeting and issued an ultimatum.

Vickery, as a spokesman for the patrolmen, informed the board that the patrolmen had held a meeting prior to the board meeting and unless the board finders recommendations pertaining to overtime pay of not pay time and half because time and a half is met by the board, no additional overtime for any reason will be performed by any patrolman.

If a contract is not signed and put into effect by the next board meeting, Vickery said that a resignation of every man on the force would be presented to the board.

Mayor Cornelius Cox told Vickery that he was in violation of speaking without a union delegate and the board would accept the resignation of every man on the force because the village cannot afford it. He Trustee Donald R. McCaig resigned from the board for "personal reasons." The mayor expressed "appreciation for a job well done" and the board accepted the resignation "with regret." Fire Commissioner Richard Underhill expressed appreciation for McCaig's "fine job" as parade chairman for the forthcoming Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Parade. He also thanked the merchants who had decorated their stores in conjunction with the parade.

Two representatives from Prudential Insurance, Walter Keefe and Robert Desmond appeared before the board and presented a proposed medical plan for village employees. After a few changes are made, they were told to reappear before the board for a vote on acceptance of this plan.

Visits Site Of Proposed Hydro Plant

CORNWALL ON THE HUDSON, N.Y. (AP) — On foot, by car, by boat and by helicopter, the five-member Federal Power Commission has taken a first-hand look at the Storm King Mountain site where the Consolidated Edison Co. wants to build a pumped storage hydroelectric plant.

John N. Nassikas, commission chairman, said during the day-long tour Monday that the FPC's final decision on the controversial proposal should come within three months at the outside.

"It should be even sooner than that," he said.

The battle between the utility and conservationists has gone on for eight years and even the FPC decision is not expected to end the long dispute. Both sides indicated it would probably be carried on into the courts because of the stakes involved.

Con Ed says it needs the plant to have sufficient generating capacity to avoid summer brownouts or even blackouts in the metropolitan area. The Village of Cornwall supports Con Ed, seeing economic benefit from the plant.

Conservationists hold that the installation would destroy a unique area of natural beauty where the mountains rise in splendor above the Hudson River.

They won a key battle in 1965 when the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit ruled that the conservationists had the right to challenge the original FPC decision to allow the plant and that the commission ought to consider how the plant affected the environment.

Reckless Endangerment Charged After Argument

TOWN OF SAUGERTIES — Investigation of an anonymous call that an armed man was holding two women in a house on Stoll Road, this township, Monday night, resulted in the arrest of George Harper, 40, of Stoll Road, on a charge of reckless endangerment first degree.

Harper was arraigned before

Kingston Town Justice Robert E. Ferrigan and pleaded innocent. The preliminary examination was adjourned until Wednesday at 7 p.m. and bail was fixed at $2,500.

According to Kingston state police, a telephone call was received at 10:15 p.m. by a man who complained that "an unidentified man" had taken two girls into a house at gunpoint and was holding them there.

Lieut. W. L. Shurter, Zone Sergeant J. Pinto, Sergeant R. J. Dempsey with BCI investigators W. E. Beyea and C. H. Searles and five uniformed troopers hurried to the scene. Authorities reported later that they were told that Harper and Donald Heines of Katrine Lane, Lake Katrine were in the house with Louise Todd, 20, of Woodstock, and Janet Williams, 29, of Stoll Road, and an argument ensued.

Harper allegedly had an Italian-made bolt action rifle and reportedly chased Heines from the house. Harper, authorities were told, fired one shot from the weapon.

The investigation is continuing. Troopers noted that the original anonymous call about the man holding the women in the house at gunpoint was unfounded.

Limb Causes Infirmary Scare

KINGSTON — Firemen from Engine 2 were dispatched to the County Infirmary Annex on Golden Hill at 11:23 p.m. Monday after they were informed that lights were out in the building and sparks were seen in the pump house.

On arrival firefighters in charge of Captain Robert Schatzel found a tree limb laying across power lines. The Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp. was notified and linemen arrived and removed the limb.

Power in the building was restored. Firemen reported back in service at 12:47 a.m. today.

KINGSTON — Boy Scout Troops 2 and 10 are conducting a car wash Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Sears Automotive Center in Kingston Shopping Plaza.

The proceeds will benefit the special activities of both troops.

MRS. DEWEY DIES — Mrs. Thomas E. Dewey, 67, wife of the two-time Republican presidential candidate, died Sunday at Memorial Hospital in New York City, of cancer after a long illness. Funeral services will be held at St. James Episcopal Church on Wednesday. Gov. Rockefeller today ordered flags at half mast throughout the state. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Chancellor MacLeod Dies Monday Night

LONDON (UPI) — Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer, James N. MacLeod, 56, considered the most brilliant brain in the new Conservative government, died of a heart attack Monday night.

His death faced Prime Minister Edward Heath with the immediate problem of picking a successor. Political sources said it probably would mean a top-level cabinet reshuffle a month after the new government took office.

Heath announced MacLeod's death in a 2 a.m. statement from his No. 10 Downing Street office.

MacLeod, who died at his official residence at No. 11 Downing St.—next door to the prime minister—had been released Sunday from St. George's Hospital, where he underwent an appendectomy July 8.

Political speculation centered at once on Home Secretary Reginald Maudling, 53, for the job. It is equivalent to that of secretary of the Treasury in the United States. The chancellor is responsible for making and directing the nation's economic policies. Maudling held the job in earlier Conservative party governments in 1962-64.

Youth Arrested On Mischief in Auto Damage

KINGSTON — A 17-year-old youth arrested Friday afternoon on a charge of criminal mischief second degree, is scheduled for a hearing in City Court later this week.

Raymond Adorno of 59 Van Buren Street, was accused of damaging a 1966 car belonging to Betsy Gulnick of 33 Furnace Street, according to the detective division of the Police Department. It was reported the youth allegedly threw rocks through the windshield of the vehicle, damaged the body and other parts.

Police said the damage was estimated at $269.77. The incident occurred last week while the car was parked near the owner's residence, according to authorities.

City Police Report 2 Cars Are Ransacked

KINGSTON — Police investigated two complaints early today involving the ransacking of two cars on Ten Broeck Avenue.

Arthur Perry of Avery's Trailer Park complained that someone stole a tape player and six tapes from his car sometime between 11:30 p.m. Monday and 2:30 a.m. today. He valued the articles at $110.

John Mathews of Tremper Avenue told authorities that an automatic radio tape player and 11 tapes valued at $150 had been taken from his parked car sometime between 9:30 p.m. yesterday and 2:30 a.m. today. Detectives are continuing the investigation.

Theatre: Vernon in Comedy

By DOROTHY A. NAREL

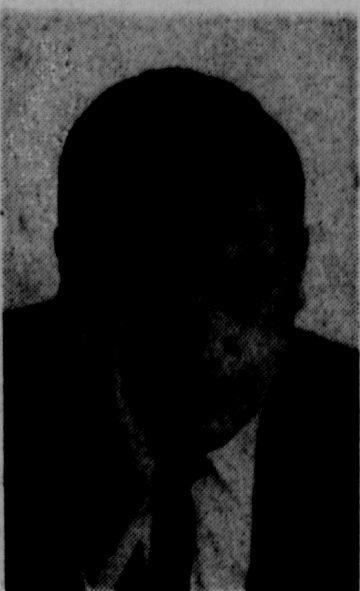

Pity a poor snook by the name of Allen Felix. His wife leaves him, he lacks self confidence with the girls and his crutch in life is day dreaming about such dashing and bold characters as Humphrey Bogart.

This is the gist of the low-keyed comedy which opened last night at Hyde Park playhouse with comic Jackie Vernon in the lead role. The Woody Allen hit play PLAY IT AGAIN, SAM is a natural vehicle for Vernon — it suits his understated comic delivery and provides an evening of light fun and relaxation.

Vernon, whose life is filled with stories of his youth ("at parties I stayed in the room with the coats") gets excellent support from such experienced actors as Dan Frazer, currently appearing in the film, TICK... TICK... TICK, and Laura May Lewis, a familiar face in the kitchens and supermarkets of television commercials.

Bob Sacchi is almost startling in his imitation of Bogart. He is a dead ringer for him and has mastered the late actor's characteristics of speech, gestures even stance. Sacchi does a nightclub routine based on the Humphrey Bogart image and judging from last night's performance, it must be excellent.

Comedian Vernon has several top moments in the play — times when he really comes through with slow motion delivery that leaves you laughing into the next scene. At the conclusion of the play, he does a stand up comedy bit and it is here that you really appreciate the wit and talent of the man. He is credited with having said such lines as "my idea of a wild time was Koolaid and oatmeal cookies," and "I prophesized that the world would end in 1951 — and for me it did."

Also appearing in the three act comedy are Anne Linden, Samantha Doane, Joan Abrahams, Enid Edman, Lyssa Higgins, Leigh Carole and Eda Zuhl.

The author of PLAY IT AGAIN, SAM made it big with his first film WHAT'S NEW PUSYCAT? It was one of the biggest successes in screen history. His play DON'T DRINK THE WATER which was produced at Oranquit last season, was a Broadway hit in 1966 and was recently made into a film with Jackie Gleason and Estelle Parsons.

PLAY IT AGAIN, SAM continues on stage at Hyde Park Playhouse through July 25. Scheduled for appearances the second half of this season are such top names as Pat O'Brien, John Gavin and Betty Grable.

The current production was directed by Jeremiah Morris with settings by Eddie Olavarria and lighting by Paul Stenbock.

Next week Hyde Park Playhouse will stage Mart Crowley's BOYS IN THE BAND, a play set in homosexual milieu. About it NEW YORK TIMES critic Clive Barnes wrote, "It makes Edward Albee's Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf? seem like a vicarage tea party."

Bill Moore will be joining the Hyde Park cast from the National, Las Vegas and New York Companies of BOYS IN THE BAND. Appearing with him also will be Don Nute, seen on TV in such roles as Eddie in MY SISTER EILEEN.

BOYS IN THE BAND has reaped some of the best reviews for story content, performance and sheer directness. The author treats his subject without evasion and far outpaces such plays as TEA AND SYMPATHY or STAIRCASE. It is comedy and drama and should be one of the top hits this season at Hyde Park.

Civil War Skirmish Features Ladies Gown Contest

For the first time since the 120th New York Volunteer Civil War Regiment of Saugerties began holding North-South Regional Skirmishes seven years ago, there was a ladies gown contest featured as part of the weekend program. Muzzle-loading shooters from seven states converged on the Sawyerkill Country Club field, Washington Avenue Extension, Saturday and Sunday, July 18 and 19, to compete in various shooting contests with authentic Civil War weapons. The gown contest was presented at 7 p.m., Saturday, prior to the "Hog Stomp" at the campsite.

A definite set of rules for the gown contest was voted at the October, 1969 meeting of the "Camp Followers," wives and daughters of the participating skirmishers, at the North-South Skirmish headquarters at Fort Shenandoah, Winchester Va. The ladies were required to make their own gowns with no zipper or Velcro closings allowed. Hand-stitched hems and hand-worked buttonholes received more points than machine stitched details. Fabrics were required to be of Civil War period, 1861-1865, such as cotton, brocade, velvet or taffeta, with no synthetics such as nylon, rayons, etc., acceptable. More points were given for complete underpinning and proper hoops, slips and pantaloons, and for authentic or copies of accessories worn during the Civil War such as shoes, bags, gloves, jewelry and fans. The ladies were advised to have appropriate hairdos and makeup and the gowns were made from patterns of the Civil War era.

First place awards were presented to Mrs. John Morgan, 2nd New Jersey Volunteers, for best daytime gown. Mrs. Morgan also won first place for excellent overall gown which she had created herself, guided by photographs of Civil War garments.

Mrs. Harold Cuthbert was first place winner in tea time gown competition and Wendy Sue Malson was winner in the child's division. Mrs. Cuthbert and Miss Malson are also from the 2nd New Jersey Vol-

Mary Ann Johnson of the 120th Volunteers of Saugerties received first place award for the best gown locally. Silver tray awards had been donated by Cliff Jones of Saugerties Ambulance Service, Edward B. Sweeney of Saugerties, and Dick Thibaut of Woodstock.

Judges for the gown contest included Mrs. Phyllis Barlow and Mrs. Louise Breitling, both of Ulster County Extension Service, and Mrs. Dorothy Lynch, a collector of antique clothing.

Captain Edward Van Gaasbeek of the 120th, has announced that this year's skirmish was the largest ever held in the North-East Region as well as the largest in Saugerties. 36 teams of eight men had registered, and with so large an attendance the parade held at the field Sunday at 10 a.m. was an impressive one as the uniforms were not only blue and grey, but the red of the Zouaves and the hunter's green of the Maine Sharpshooters.

In addition to the teams previously announced the following attended: 118th Pennsylvania, the 73rd New York, 14th Virginia Cavalry, 14th Connecticut, 115th New York, 2nd New York Cavalry, 1st New York Dragoons, 1st New Jersey Volunteers, 2nd New Jersey Cavalry Company A, 1st New York Light Artillery, 2nd New Jersey Volunteers, 59th New York, 5th Independent Battery, C-SS Virginia Landing Party, 79th New York State Militia, 44th New York, 5th Massachusetts Battery and the 13th North Carolina.

There also were five cannons in competition from Connecticut, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Schenectady.

On both Saturday and Sunday there were demonstrations by six members of the 1st Battalion, 156th Artillery, Headquarters Battery of the Kingston National Guard shooting M-1 Rifles and 45 pistols, competing against a team of skirmishers shooting 58 calibre muskets. Master Sgt. Lance Cooper was in charge of the National Guard team.

On Saturday the skirmishers competed in individual matches and on Sunday shot in teams of eight men each.

REMINISCENT OF SCARLETT O'HARA — Marcia Chamberlain of Pine City, 141 Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, is shown in a satin gown, accented with fringed velvet shawl and black gloves, while Shirley Wallace, Morris Plains, N. J., Second New Jersey Volunteers, wears a draped velvet gown trimmed with bows. Both women wear appropriate jewelry as additional points were given in the contest for authentic or copies of accessories worn during the Civil War era. Mrs. Wallace was first place winner in the ballgown competition. Even her hairstyle suggests mid-19th century.

FAMILY PARTICIPATION — One of the highlights of the North-South Region Skirmishes held by the 120th New York Volunteer Civil War Regiment of Saugerties was the ladies gown contest which took place Saturday, July 18 at the campsite on Sawyerkill Country Club field, Washington Avenue Extension, Saugerties. Mrs. William Nieffer of the 120th New York Volunteer Infantry, Saugerties, is pictured here with her two children Lorilee, age 7, and Marci, age 3, all attired in cotton gowns trimmed with lace, commemorative of the Civil War era. (Freeman photos by Kruh).

Constable-Steiner Nuptials Announced

MRS. SANDY AUSTIN STEINER
(Proskin photo)

Westkill Methodist Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Joyce Anne Constable, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Constable of Westkill, and Sgt. Sandy Austin Steiner, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Steiner of 1105 Violet Street, Bossier City, La., on Saturday, July 11.

The Rev. Mr. Galloway officiated at the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a floor-length, empire A-line gown of Chantilly lace with pearl embroidered bodice. The gown featured an oval neckline and a wattleu train with a scalloped hemline. Her two-tier silk illusion veil was attached to a stylized headpiece and she carried a bouquet of carnations.

Miss Betty M. Constable of 117 Main Street in New Paltz was maid of honor for her sister in a yellow empire A-line gown styled with a red-ink effect and outlined with an embroidered motif. The gown featured short puffed sleeves. A matching headpiece of ribbons and daisies held her four-tier silk illusion veil. She carried a basket of blue daisies and assorted flowers.

Attendants were Karen Tucker, Patricia Dasher, both of Kingston, and Sharyn Lynch of St. Remy. Their powder blue gowns were identical in styling to that of the honor attendant's and they carried baskets of yellow, white daisies and assorted flowers.

Dennis Tattatori of West Point was best man. Ushers were Randall Kries, West Point; Robert Constable Jr. and Eugene Constable, both of Westkill and brothers of the bride. Michael James Constable of Westkill was ring-bearer.

A reception was held at Westkill Community Hall.

The bride is a 1965 graduate of Hunter-Tannersville Central School and is employed by New York Telephone Company in Kingston. Her husband, a 1965 alumnus of Fairview High School, Bossier City, La., attended Texas A&M, Louisiana Polytechnical Institute, and is now serving as a military policeman in U.S. Army, West Point.

When they return from their wedding trip to Monmouth Park, N.J., they will reside at 117 Main Street in New Paltz.

Rome Fashions Are 'Poetry'

By JEANNE CONTINI
ROME (AP) — Roberto Capucci's collection shown recently against the renaissance arches of Rome's 16th century Valle Giulia came as close to poetry as fashion can come.

It was all float and flow, evoking images of such classic young heroines as Juliet, and Ophelia, Eloise or Melisande.

With few exceptions, these dresses were fitted through the rib cage falling in a soft wide sweep to the ankles.

Some were princess, some had high waists defined by seams or wide inset bands of subtle contrasting color and others were narrowly swathed at the waist in crushed chiffon or crepe. Nearly all had long sleeves, either narrow or loose and cuffed.

Like the dresses, the coats were deceptively simple, straight sleeved, open, and cut on the bias to flare gently at the hem. There were also bias cut thin wool capes, worn with long scarves covering the hair and draped over one shoulder.

Capucci showed suede boots or silk shoes with crushed fabric garters in colors that matched the dresses with very effective results.

There was only one other style of shoe that carried out the medieval look of the clothes — low-heeled with a high pointed vamp in suede, silk, or gold kid.

The colors were delicate and delicious. A whole gamut of rose, rust, peach, apricot, plum, coral, pink, combined with great imagination. Imagine an apricot dress with rust cape, pale melon with mauve. Peach with pearl gray and brown.

For evening, dark capes were worn over pale hampered velvet dresses in copper, rose, beige. There were no obviously contrived clothes in the whole collection, yet it was full of hidden artistry.

Permit Denied . . . But Music Festival Preparations Continue

By ALBERT J. CAWEIN

SAUGERTIES
A permit sought by Sound Festival, Woodstock Inc., to conduct another in a series of "concerts" this weekend has been denied by Saugerties Town Board, but a spokesman at the Copland farm site near Shultis Corners said preparations are continuing for a Saturday concert, and that further legal action is anticipated.

William C. Mullany, Sound Festival attorney said late Monday that he had received notification of the denial by registered mail from the town, and Section 4D of Local Law

No. 5 was cited as the reason for the rejection of the application.

Small towns unwilling hosts to music festivals. Story page 15.

Town Supervisor A. Michael Schovel today confirmed that the Town Board had reviewed the application and rejected it. When advised that the sound festival promoters are planning a one-day concert Saturday from 12 noon to 11 p.m., Schovel said the town would keep the situation under strict surveillance and that the local law will be enforced. He indicated that when the attendance passes the 200 mark, the promoters will be in violation of the local law.

Section 4D says the Town Board shall not issue a permit for the holding of an assembly or gathering of 200 persons or more unless: "it is satisfied that the assembly or gathering would not constitute a public or private nuisance and the potential for harm to the general public, the township and surrounding area will not outweigh any good which might be derived from such an event."

Mullany commenting on the reason for denial under the statute said this all inclusive clause gives the town too much latitude for denial and indicated that it must stand the test of constitutionality in State Supreme Court.

Ian Han, speaking for the Sound Festival said this morning the town's action "will hurt our attendance," and indicated that further legal action is contemplated.

Mullany could not say this morning what action he is preparing to cope with the situation.

A broad array of "rock and roll" talent has been scheduled for the Saturday night concert. Included will be Colwell-Winfield Blues Band, The Flying Burrito Bros., Ian and Sylvia and the Great Speckled Bird, Larry Coryell, Moses, Paul Seibel plus All-Star Boots, Martha Velez, Jam.

Bob Gibson, Artie and Happy Traum, Ellen McIlwaine, Holy Moses, Paul Seibel plus All-Star Boots, Martha Velez, Jam.

Ambulance Service Approved For Onteora Football Teams

By TOBIE GEERTSEMA

BOICEVILLE
A report (five months in the making and three months held in abeyance) on Emergency Medical Treatment (with emphasis on athletes) highlighted Monday night's meeting of the Onteora Central Schools Board of Education.

The report, submitted by a six-man committee chaired by Trustee Peter W. Rakov, defined problem areas in physical examinations and emergency medical treatment in the Onteora district; proposed recommendations.

Lengthy discussion and final acceptance of most of the recommendations indicated that the school board and administration feels deep concern for providing all safeguards possible for students participating in athletic events.

The report had apparently been initiated at approximately the same time The Daily Freeman delved into this particular subject in a two-part series early last winter. The Freeman conducted a survey throughout the area; culled statistics on emergency treatment available to athletes at sports contests and practice sessions in high schools, availability of ambulances and doctors, and insurance coverage provided athletes.

The report showed most schools adequately covered on both insurance and emergency problems, with most athletic staffs versed in first aid. Onteora, however, did not always have a doctor in attendance and had to depend on an ambulance service in the area, not actually located on the field.

When the report came up on the meeting agenda, board member Donald Gross (who served on the committee making the recommendations) moved to table action pending further study. His motion failed to elicit a second. The majority of trustees apparently agreed with former president Charles Weidner, who urged implementation of as much of the report as possible on grounds that football practice begins next month.

The board unanimously approved action that would see a professional ambulance in attendance at all jayvee or varsity football games played during the school year. Postponed for consideration until the August board meeting was a recommendation that the town-operated Shandaken ambulance service be in attendance or on call at all other athletic events involving contact sports.

A proposal drawn up by school attorney Alvin E. Moscovitz, covering an agreement between Shandaken and Onteora, was read but not voted on, on the attorney's advice that it was not a final contract. Indications are that it will eventually be approved after submission to the Shandaken Town Board.

Any such agreement would call for Shandaken to furnish emergency ambulance service to students, teachers and staff at Bennett Elementary School and Onteora High School, both in Boiceville. Service would be limited to calls coming from the district, and transportation would be to the nearest medical office or hospital. Onteora would pay for services rendered, arrange for necessary collection from its insurance carrier, maintain insurance coverage for its own personnel, and furnish personnel to assist the Shandaken service.

The town would agree to answer calls made by school authorities for emergency service; would charge the customary fees.

In addition to approving professional ambulance service for the football and considering Shandaken ambulance for such sports as wrestling, baseball, football and basketball, the OCS board approved a recommendation that one of its own district-owned vehicles be equipped as a stand-by ambulance in attendance at all athletic contests. Manned by a driver and a staff member with an Advanced Red Cross First Aid Certificate, it would provide backup or secondary service in the event the ambulance had already been called into use.

The board also agreed that a physician should be in attendance (if possible), or on call, at all home Jayvee and Varsity wrestling, baseball, football, basketball and track contests.

Additionally, plans call for a course to be offered during the fall semester to all interested administrators, teachers and staff members. Taught by Woodstocker Kevin Sweeney, whose Simulaid firm specializes in first aid and safety teaching devices, it would include instruction on athletic trauma. Graduates would receive Advanced Red Cross First Aid Certificates and in-service credit for the course; would provide a roster from which the school could field para-medical attendants at all athletic contests and practice sessions.

Onteora also hopes to strengthen its emergency medical treatment during school hours by encouraging as many administrators and teachers as possible to complete the Standard Basic Red Cross First Aid Course for in-service credit. Plans are also afoot to provide resuscitators and qualified operators in every school in the district, if legally possible and financially feasible.

Also recommended is a direct outside telephone for the Athletic Doctor's office at OCS to insure immediate calls for ambulances and other aid to provide emergency medical treatment during after school and non-school hours.

Finally, the board gave its approval to what was referred to as "thorough" physical exams for athletes. Estimating that some 200 athletes would be involved yearly, members agreed athletic physicals should be given annually to all students participating interscholastically in strenuous or contact sports. Students would be offered the option of being examined by a private family physician or a professional athletic physician at Onteora.

General physical exams will be given to all students in their first, third, seventh and 10th years in the school system. Last year the district utilized the services of five area physicians for these exams. With only two of those probably returning in September, the board is contacting others in the hope of again recruiting a full force.

Camper Theft Suspect Is Ill In City Lockup

KINGSTON

While being detained in the lockup at City Hall Monday, 16-year-old Charles Morgenstein of 147-10 4th Avenue, Flushing, suffered an ill spell and collapsed on the floor.

Police summoned Doctors Ambulance and the youth was taken to Kingston Hospital. He was later released after examination.

Morgenstein was arrested last Thursday by police after he was seen driving a truck-camper that had been reported stolen in Schenectady. The vehicle was owned by Robert F. Pump Imports of that city.

City police cited the youth for unlicensed operation, operating a motor vehicle with improper plates and no insurance. The registration plates had been stolen from another car.

The youth appeared yesterday before City Judge Hubert A. Richter and his case was adjourned until today. A warrant charging Morgenstein with grand larceny involving the truck-camper, was expected by mail from the upstate authorities.

YES, $1 COVERS YOUR ENTIRE FAMILY FOR THE FIRST MONTH. THEN CONTINUE AT WORLD MUTUAL'S REGULAR RATES.

So many people discover — after it's too late — that their health insurance doesn't pay all the bills. It does NOT pay for services of doctors, nurses, specialists, surgeons... does NOT generally pay for surgery performed in a doctor's office... does NOT pay for nursing care at home. They learn to their regret that these expenses must be paid out of their own pocket!

But now, World Mutual's Medical-Surgical-Nurse family health plan fills the "money gaps" in your health protection. It provides ALL these cash benefits.

Pays you for operations and surgery in the hospital... Pays tax-free cash for appendectomy, gall bladder removal, mastectomy, hernia, hysterectomy, and all other operations listed in your Policy. You get up to a maximum of $600.00 paid directly to you for the surgical expense actually incurred.

Pays you for minor surgery in the doctor's office, or even at home... Yes, World Mutual pays you tax-free cash for minor surgery like a wart removal, a hemorrhoid excision, or a cyst removal. You get paid for the cost of every operation—from a minimum of $30.00 to a maximum of $600.00!

Pays you for doctors' bedside visits while hospitalized for a non-surgical confinement... World Mutual pays you $5.00 cash for one visit per day by a physician (any physician who submits a bill, even your family doctor!) to a maximum of $500.00 for each hospitalization.

Pays you $100.00 a week for a Registered Nurse at home... Even after you collect the large surgical or non-surgical hospital benefits, if your doctor has you employ a full-time Registered Nurse within 5 days after you come home, we'll send you checks for $100.00 a week—for as long as you were hospitalized—even as much as $5,000.00 tax-free cash! How comforting to know that, after your stay of 5 or more days in the hospital, you can go home to recuperate and not be a burden to your loved ones.

Pays cash direct to you... tax-free cash rushed by mail direct to you (not to doctor or hospital)—cash for Medical, Surgical, Nurse benefits that can total $5,600.00!

What if you already own some health insurance?

WE PAY YOU IN ADDITION TO WHATEVER YOU COLLECT FROM ANY OTHER INSURANCE with any other companies. Even if it's for the same illness! And even if it means you'll be collecting twice! In fact we say:

Never mind what Blue Cross pays you. Never mind what benefits you receive from Blue Shield, Workmen's Compensation, Medicare, Medicaid or any other insurance you may have with any other company. We still pay you cash benefits—right up to the maximum. Which means that even if your other insurance has already paid some, or all, of your medical bills—you still collect from World Mutual! And every dollar is yours—to spend any way you like.

No reduction in benefits if you're 65 or over.

You're not penalized because of advanced age. Yes, even if you are 65 or over, you receive the same cash benefits for operations... the same cash benefits for bedside doctor visits... the same cash benefits for minor surgery in the doctor's office... the same cash benefits for home nursing as folks younger than you. Can you think of any other insurance plan that provides such exceptional over-age coverage as World Mutual?

How can World Mutual give you so much for only $1 for a whole month?

You deal direct with the Company—direct with World Mutual itself. No salesman will call. That's because you virtually enroll yourself using the Application Form right on this page. Costly "processing charges" are eliminated. So is the "red tape" that normally

ACT NOW — THIS ENROLLMENT PERIOD ENDS MIDNIGHT, THURSDAY, JULY 30, 1970

NO AGE LIMIT. NO SALESMAN WILL CALL.

increases the price you pay for insurance. No one need know your personal affairs, except you. And when you reply before the date shown in the Application Form below...

Only $1 enrolls your ENTIRE FAMILY!

You really can put this protection in force for your whole family at a cost of—not $20.00... not $10.00... not even $5.00—but only the introductory price of $1 for the first month regardless of your age. And then:

Collect whenever any covered member of your family requires surgery, or hospital medical care, and a full-time Registered Nurse after coming home from the hospital! Maybe hundreds, even thousands of dollars will be paid to you in medical, surgical and nursing benefits! Coverage is for your whole family. Imagine, whenever illness or injury strikes you or your loved ones—you can receive tax-free cash for each covered family member.

Stop for a moment—and think.

Think how much a long illness or accident can cost you these days. How would you ever pay those big doctor bills, the cost of operations and home nursing care? What would you do if your pay check stopped, and there was no other source of income to meet medical expenses that piled up on top of the same day-to-day living expenses that never stop? But now you can have the extra help you need—when you need it most—with this World Mutual Medical-Surgical-Nurse Plan (WNL24-1168).

We can never cancel your policy!

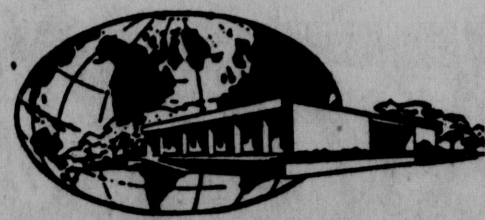

You can count on World Mutual's wonderful protection no matter how old you get or how many times you collect from us! It is written into your Policy that we cannot cancel your protection after you've made a lot of claims, or become old—or both—or for any other reason whatsoever! It is GUARANTEED RENEWABLE FOR LIFE! Only you can cancel.

Doesn't enrolling by mail take away the "personal touch?"

Not at all! We give you more personal service, not less. But instead of getting it when you sign up, YOU GET IT WHEN YOU WANT TO SUBMIT A CLAIM! That's where it really means something. And that's where World Mutual gives you plenty of personal service. For example, we rush your claim checks direct to you by mail, not to the hospital or doctor.

No embarrassing "investigations."

That's right! Forget about filling out one of those lengthy, complicated questionnaires. Or answering a lot of personal questions. Or being "investigated" before your Policy is issued, the way some companies require. The short form on this page tells us all we need to know.

What DOESN'T your valuable World Mutual protection cover?

Get ready for a welcome surprise. It covers absolutely everything except conditions caused by: act of war; pregnancy; mental or nervous disorders; dental repair or surgery except where repair is necessary due to injury to natural teeth; where care is in a U.S. Government hospital; and expenses resulting from any sickness or injury you had before the Effective Date of the Policy (for the first year only).

Why you must act before the deadline date.

Unless we receive your Application Form the same time as everyone else's, we can't pass on the printing and processing savings that come from issuing many policies at one time. That's why we must impose a deadline date which cannot be extended even one day. If your Form arrives too late, WE WILL NOT BE ALLOWED TO ACCEPT IT.

If you change your mind—we'll give your money back!

You are still free to return the Policy within 15 days of the day you receive it, and your dollar will be refunded at once. There will be no obligation whatever—for you. The only obligation is ours. Meanwhile, all during the 15 days you are deciding—you'll be protected by all the cash benefits of the Policy just as if you had already said "yes." That's right, you will be fully covered all this time, even if you finally decide to return the Policy and get your dollar back.

The reliable company behind your Policy.

Your Policy is guaranteed by the World Mutual Health and Accident Insurance Company of Pennsylvania. We have been helping families safeguard their security with sound insurance protection for more than 47 years.

You can count on us to handle your claims fairly and promptly when you are hospitalized. World

Mutual has paid claims in every state and in many foreign countries as well.

Here are your renewal rates.

The following rate chart shows how little it costs after the first month to cover yourself, your spouse and any adult dependents. Naturally, at these rates we can issue you only one policy of this type. Each person, 16 or over, pays the rate shown for his or her age.

Age at Enrollment	Monthly Premium per Adult
16-39	only $2.30
40-49	only $2.85
50-59	only $3.35
60-69	only $4.15
70-79	only $4.95
80 and over	only $5.70

Only $2.75 more per month covers all your dependent, unmarried children...

from the age of 1 month through 18 years. Newborn children are covered automatically at the age of one month—at no additional cost!

NOTE: The regular monthly premium shown above (for your age at time of enrollment) is the same premium you will continue to pay; it will not automatically increase as you pass from one age bracket to the next. Once you have enrolled, your rate can never be changed because of how much or how often you collect from us—or because of advanced age—but only if there is a general rate adjustment, up or down, on all policies of this type in your entire state.

Act NOW — "Later" May Be TOO Late!

Get your Application Form into the mail today—because once you suffer an accident or sickness, it's TOO LATE to buy protection at any cost. That's why we urge you to act today—before anything unexpected happens.

12 QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS about World Mutual's Medical-Surgical-Nurse Plan

1. How much will my Policy pay me?

Your Policy pays you 3 ways, and as much as $5,600.00 TAX-FREE CASH. It pays you up to $600.00 for operations; it pays you to a maximum of $500.00 for doctor's bedside visits in the hospital for a non-surgical confinement. And it pays you up to $5,000.00 for nursing care at home after a covered hospital stay. You can count on World Mutual's Medical-Surgical-Nurse Plan for the cash you need—when you need it most! Naturally, at these rates we can issue you only one Policy of this type.

2. How much do I collect for doctor visits while in the hospital?

We pay you to a maximum of $500.00 TAX-FREE CASH at the rate of $5.00 per visit for any doctor or specialist of your choice who makes a bedside visit (limit 1 per day) when you're in the hospital for any reason other than surgery.

3. How much do I collect for operations?

We pay you to a maximum of $600.00 TAX-FREE CASH for expenses incurred with surgical operations—we even pay for a simple one your family doctor performs.

4. Do I also collect cash benefits for minor surgery performed in my doctor's office?

You receive cash benefits for surgery even when you go to your doctor's office for a simple operation like setting a broken bone, having a cyst removed, oral surgery, or anything else! Any time a doctor does surgery, whether it's in the hospital or in his office, we pay you CASH BENEFITS!

5. What if I have more than one operation at the same time?

In that case—we pay you for the most expensive one performed—even up to $600.00 CASH in some cases!

6. How much do I receive for a full-time Registered Nurse at home?

$100.00 A WEEK for as many days as you were hospitalized—to a maximum of $5,000.00. Benefits are paid after you have been hospitalized for 5 days or more, and your doctor has you employ a full-time Registered Nurse within 5 days after you leave the hospital.

7. Suppose I am paid benefits when hospitalized for sickness or accident. What happens if I am again hospitalized for the same condition?

Don't worry. You can still collect as much as $5,600.00. And if you have already resumed normal activities for just 3 months, it's considered a new confinement, and you can collect up to the full amount again!

8. May I enroll if I am 65 or over?

Certainly! Folks any age are welcome to enroll—there is no age limit, and you collect the full cash benefits allowed.

9. Will you cancel my Policy if I make too many claims? Or because of advanced age?

No—positively not! Only you can cancel. The Company cannot—no matter how many claims you have... how old you get or for any other reason whatsoever. A GUARANTEED-RENEWABLE-FOR-LIFE clause has been written into your Policy.

10. What is not covered by this Policy?

The only conditions not covered are those caused by: act of war; mental or nervous disorders; pregnancy; dental repair or surgery except where repair is necessary due to injury to natural teeth; where care is in a U.S. Government hospital and expenses resulting from any sickness or injury you had before the Policy Effective Date (during the first year only). EVERYTHING ELSE IS COVERED!

11. What are the requirements for membership in the World Mutual Plan?

MD Prefers Birth Control to Abortion

HONOLULU (UPI) —Dr. Noni Brar Koch would like to see Hawaii's abortion law never used.

As the new medical director of Hawaii Planned Parenthood, Inc., Dr. Koch is dedicating her efforts to preventing unwanted pregnancies.

"Hawaii's abortion law is wonderful," Dr. Koch said, "but prevention is even better."

The state's hospitals have been averaging about 250 abortions a month since the law went into effect in March. Officials believe the number will reach 3,000 by the end of the first year.

The law permits abortions in hospitals as part of a physician's regular medical practice. Women seeking an abortion must sign an affidavit that they have been Hawaii residents at least 90 days.

Dr. Koch, a native of Panjab, India where it was "bad" for a girl to even look at a boy, said she does not moralize to those who have had an abortion about what their conduct should be in the future.

"Girls who have had abortions usually want to forget but make sure an accidental pregnancy doesn't happen again," Dr. Koch said.

"If a girl comes in who is sexually experienced or who has had an abortion and wants preventive help, we give it freely," she added.

However, Dr. Koch said, "if a girl is simply curious, I counsel her not to go into sex just for the fun of it."

Dr. Koch finds that too often "the young enter into sex too early and with incredible naivete because of a lack of family communication."

"Frequently the only dating advice they've received from their parents is to be good and be home early," she said.

Dr. Koch, a gynecologist, has launched an all-out effort to provide free birth control information, clinic service and contraceptive supplies to Hawaii's poor.

Rather than waiting for the poor to come to her, Dr. Koch travels each week in a mobile van, bringing equipment and supplies to clinics located in low-income areas for women unable to afford the services of a private physician. She sees as many as 100 women a week.

Dr. Koch refers those seeking abortions to other physicians since she does not have time for a private practice.

The Koch family is a rare example of extreme planning. Dr. Koch said she underwent voluntary sterilization after the birth of her son three years ago.

"I am disturbed about the misery in the world and the rapid population growth," she said.

"Our main stress is that no woman should have to undergo an unwanted pregnancy or abortion. Prevention is the only answer."

Small Towns Unwilling Hosts

Pasture Rock Should Be for Cows, Not Festivals

NEW YORK (UPI) — Cow town's the kind that seem to attract promoters of such affairs. The state health department requires a $50,000 performance bond plus $5,000 for every anticipated 5,000 persons. Local officials, in many towns feel the state law, which does not apply to gatherings under 5,000 persons, overlooks their problems. A quaint hamlet in northern New York near Plattsburgh was sent into a near-panic earlier this year when the town learned a festival, similar to the one in Woodstock, was planned for Memorial Day weekend. Townsfolk shared visions of trying to cope with 200,000 to 250,000 people from Canada and the Eastern Seaboard. Residents circulated petitions against the "Live-In."

The town board then passed a local law requiring the posting of expensive bonds and the submission by promoters of references, financial statements and any criminal records of employees. Dolores Perrault, Churubusco town supervisor, read from a letter he said was received from Hal Abramson, a sponsor of the festival. "It is true, you have beaten us and made us lose a lot of hard earned money," Perrault read. "We are not the losers," he continued reading. "You people up there are bigger losers because your youth have lost faith. If we could comply (with the board of health and the money stipulations) we could not hold it."

Abramson said in his letter the community had contributed to the so-called generation gap problem of today through what he described as its lack of concern for young people. Local officials in the Ulster County Town of Saugerties recently enacted a local ordinance in an effort to close the town to a planned music gathering. The law laid down stiff regulations for sponsors of mass gatherings of over 200 people. A state Supreme Court judge surprised to see the town adopt later ruled that the ordinance, approved June 11, was too late to stop the festival. He said he knew of at least three nearby towns that were considering tightening their laws on public assembly. "It's not that we are against festivals if they are kept small and orderly," Houst said. He said those who oppose zoning laws which make staging a large festival there concerned about housing, traffic, drugs, runaways and health. But, he added, "I wouldn't be conditions."

Americans Edge Highland, 1-0, in LL Opener

By JIM MASSA
KINGSTON
The local District Little League Tournament opened Monday night and depending on what type of spectator game you like you had two choices. One was a pitchers duel, which the Kingston Americans won over Highland 1-0, and the other a real slugfest, which Hurley won over Ontario 18-6.

Dennis Curlew scored the winning run for the Americans in the bottom of the fourth after the first two batters were out. Curlew reached first on a single. Hurley went to second as Dave Mendez was safe at first via an error on a grounder to third base.

Paul Gallo hit the second pitch deep center. The runners were moving with two out and the centerfielder went back near the fence. The ball popped out of his glove and hit the fence and by the time the ball was in his hand Curlew had scored what proved to be the winning run. Meanwhile, Mendez came digging around third for home. The throw from center was taken by the pitcher and relayed to home and Mendez was the final out of the inning.

Nagele Puts Out Fire
Barry Nagele relieved starter Jerry Hart with bases loaded and one out in the top of the fifth and stopped the Highlanders cold. Nagele got John Casabona to ground out first to home for the second out of the inning. Dave Mackey grounded to third and the force play was made at home, for the third out.

Highland tried again in the top of the sixth to tie the score as Karl Kilpatrick worked Nagele for a free pass to first and moved to second on a wild pitch. Shawn Murphy then went in to run for Murphy at second. Nagele then fanned Tom Cambone. Phillip Crimi hit a grounder to second base and Murphy moved to third and kept coming for home. Bill Sinsabaugh saw Murphy round third and instead of going to first base threw home and Jim Hurley assaulted on Ontario.

Hurley scored ten runs in the first inning and added six in the second, one in the third and one in the fourth. Ontario scored four times in the third and two in the fifth. The game was called at the end of five innings because of rain.

Alan Johnson the winning pitcher struck out three, walked two and gave up eight hits. Charles Bower the losing hurler fanned three and walked five, while his relief pitcher Mike Boland K'd two and issued one free pass.

Hurley and the Kingston Americans will meet at the Nationals field on July 22.

Singer's O-Hitter An Afterthought

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Bill Singer started getting serious in the sixth inning, but the Philadelphia Phillies couldn't find anything funny about the Los Angeles right-hander in the first five.

"I kiddingly thought about a no-hitter in the first inning," said Singer Monday night after no-hitting Philadelphia 5-0. "I got serious in the sixth."

There had been omens that a no-hitter was in the cards for Singer, who had been out with infectious hepatitis for 53 days between April 22 and June 14.

Cagle Scores Open Victory

MIDDLETOWN
Will Cagle powered his way to the front of the pack on the 68th lap and kept his car Number 24 in front the rest of the way to win the 100-Lap Open event at the Orange County Fair Speedway in Middletown.

Cagle zipped by Buzze Reutimann as both cars flew out of the fourth turn. Reutimann took over the lead from Bill Wilson, Ramsey, N. J., on the second lap and held it until Cagle's charge to the front.

Several accidents and spin outs marred the race, causing the caution flag to come out on two occasions. Rich Ricci and Carl Van Horn both crashed into the wall, but managed to escape uninjured.

Braves All-Star Hosts

KINGSTON
Kingston Braves, who play the Beacon Astros tonight at 8 o'clock at Dietz Stadium, will host the 1970 Hudson Valley Rookies All Star contest Saturday night at Dietz Stadium.

The All-Star game will be preceded at 5:30 p.m. by a replay of the Kingston-New Windsor contest that was rained out a

1-1 tie here last week. New Windsor must win to tie Florida Comets for first place in the Southern Division.

In addition to the all-star contest, the Saturday program will feature the awarding of several cash prizes. General Manager Fred Davi said.

Dorps Top Kingston

WATERTOWN
All-stars from the Kingston Babe Ruth League went down to defeat yesterday as Schenectady scored two runs in the first inning and made it stand up the rest of the way. The tilt was a first-round game of the New York State Babe Ruth League Baseball Tournament.

Schenectady will face the winners of the Watertown-Geneva game today in a second round winner's bracket contest. Kingston now goes into the loser's bracket.

Brian Brown starred for the winners, striking out 10 men, while allowing just five hits and issuing one free pass.

Mike Palladino took the loss, but struck out 13, walked but three and allowed just four hits. Brown walked in the first inning and then stole second. He later scored on Mike Burke's single. Burke moved to third on the play and came home with the second run on a single by Jim Bendick.

Bendick preserved the win for Brown as he made a shoe-string catch, racing in from center field. Kingston had men on first and second with two out at the time in the bottom of the seventh. Glen Littlefield and Palladino were on when the catch was made.

Kingston is being represented in the New York State Tournament by the National League All Stars, who qualified in the district tournament at Saugerties.

The Nationals defeated the American League All Stars, 2 to 1, at Saugerties, with Palladino getting the nod over John Geuss in a battle of 3-hitters. Both National runs were un-

RBI singles by Jim Lefebvre and Wes Parker, a sacrifice fly by Willie Davis and Bill Russell's two-run double backed the third no-hitter in the major this year. Dock Ellis of Pittsburgh hurled one in the NL, and Clyde Wright of California posted one in the AL.

Pittsburgh tied Houston 4-4 in the ninth when Matly Alou singled home Fred Patek, who had delivered a pinch single, but the Astros won in the 12th on Bob Watson's RBI single with two out off Orlando Pena, the third Pirate pitcher of the inning.

Denis Menke homered and singled in a run for Houston, while Roberto Clemente and Bob Robertson homered for Pittsburgh.

The Mets led 4-2 in the sixth when the Giants scored four runs. They gained a tie on an RBI single by Hal Lanier and Bob Heise and then won when reliever Danny Frisella forced in two runs with bases-loaded walks to Frank Johnson and Ron Hunt.

Wayne Garrett homered for the Mets and Dietz for San Francisco.

Pitcher Gary Nolan, 12-4, started Cincinnati's winning rally in the ninth inning of the first game against St. Louis. Nolan singled and then scored on Bobby Toland's two-out single.

The Reds had tied it 3-3 in the eighth when one run scored on Lee May's double and another on left fielder Lou Brock's error.

May's bases-loaded homer in the 10th broke a scoreless deadlock and gave the Reds the nightcap.

Atlanta took its opener against Chicago when Hank Aaron walked with two out in the ninth and his brother, Tommy smashed a homer.

In the rain-shortened, nightcap, Don Cardwell held the Cubs to three hits and was backed by Tony Gonzales' three-run homer.

RBI singles by Al Derrara and Nate Colbert, Ollie Brown's homer and Pat Dobson's seventh-inning pitching paced, San Diego past Montreal.

Fritz Peterson, 11-6, slowed the Angels had won five of six games from the Yankees. The Yanks made it easy for him as Danny Cater ripped a single, double and homer and drove in three runs. Curt Blefary hit his eighth homer and four in seven games.

Mrs. Harvey Bostic Takes Veep's Cup With 146 Net

KINGSTON
Mrs. Harvey (Pappy) Bostic posted a 36-hole net score of 146 to capture the 1970 Vice-President's Cup at Wiltwyck Country Club. She played with a 25 handicap.

Mrs. Bostic carded net 104-25-79 in the first round and followed with a whopping 92-26-67 in the second round to edge runnerup, Mrs. Robert O. Merritt by four strokes.

Mrs. Merritt, a 21 handicapper, fired net rounds of 97-21-76 and 95-21-74 for her 150.

Four Rookies in Starting Lineup

Kickers Check Hota

MORGAN HILL, Veteran Oehler Field observer interpreted it as a sign of the future, when the Kingston Kickers' new manager, Klaus Weber, scored the first goal against New York Hota in the Kickers' 4 to 2 exhibition victory.

"It's the beginning of a new era," said a veteran fan. "You could sense the new spirit with the newer players blending with what's left of the veterans."

Weber, who has been touring the United States, flew in from Texas Saturday just in time to take over the reins from Oskar Benzenhofer, the interim manager.

The new manager drilled home the first goal 12 minutes after the opening whistle against the powerful Hota. Gino Ventriglia, in one of his finest performances in several games, scored twice and substitute Kasin Selimovic accounted for the fourth goal in an impressive Kickers' exhibition win.

Starts Four Rookies
Weber started four rookies against Hota—Chuck Thompson, the goalie; Ken Neslund, former Kingston High School ace; John Gibson, an outside right, and Larry Martinelli, who graduated from Hartwick College this past June. Richie Bush, an ex-UCCF player, saw action as a substitute.

The infusion of new players into the Kickers lineup resulted in one of the fastest first halves ever seen at Oehler's. Thompson was superb at goal and Ventriglia spearheaded a stunning attack that overpowered the strong Hota defense.

Old Timers Lose
In the preliminary game, Volkswagon of New York handed the Kickers' Old Timers their first setback, 5-3. The Volkswagons were considerably younger than the Kickers, it seemed to most observers.

Kingston goals were scored by George Vizvary, the Ulster County Community College coach; Kaare Stokdal (unassisted) and Tibor Horvath. The latter was one of the most beautiful goals of the day, as Horvath took a pass from a Hans Wolf volley and sent it screaming past the Volkswagon goalie.

Old Timers lineup:
Goal — Ingo Froelich; RFB — Kaare Stokdal; LFB — Nick Alexander; RHB — Walter Ackermann; CHB — George Vizvary; LHB — Oskar Benzenhofer; OR — Alex Dirks; IR — Tibor Horvath; CF — Hans Wolf; IL — Heinz Ulfing; OL — Alfredo Di Bella.

Gay Dethiery Early Pick

MONTICELLO
Gay Dethiery, a 4-year-old pacer from New Zealand has been made the early 3-1 choice in Tuesday evening's featured 1500 third race at Monticello Raceway.

Trained and driven by New Zealand Donald Hayes, Gay Dethiery will be making her second start of the season. In her seasonal debut last week, the daughter of former U.S. racing star Hi Lo's Forbes and New Zealand Matron Gweek, was a close 2:11.3 winner for Tom Giamanco.

Trainer Don Hayes will be in the sulky behind the precocious New Zealand mare as she attempts to lower her lifetime record despite moving up considerably in class.

Wiltwyck Golfers Cop Junior Classic Event

KINGSTON
Wiltwyck Country Club juniors edged Woodstock, 328-334, for first place in the Mid-Hudson Junior Golf Classic tournament Monday at The Twaalfskill Club. The win sliced Woodstock's overall margin over Wiltwyck to 27 strokes-1313 to 1340.

Huckey Hill with 37-38-75. Howie Gordon of Woodstock 37-40-77, followed by Myer and Brown with their 80s.

Haven, Inn Win in SP

KINGSTON
Hurley Haven romped to an 18-4 win over Hucktroll in a five inning stopper and Bloomington Inn topped the Daily Freeman 9-4, in the City Slow Pitch Softball league.

Newt Madison collected three doubles and a single for Hurley Haven. If we recall correctly, Madison has collected 12 hits in his last 14 at bats.

Madison was aided by Jerry Robinson's triple and three singles, while Tom Curtin melted a home run and double for Bloomington. Reilly got help from Arnie Smith and Abe Van Steenburg, each collected two doubles and a single.

Joe Darwak slammed a home run and double for the Freeman. Pete Morreale added three singles for the Newsman.

Michael's Oust Rotron Team

SAUGERTIES
Michael's Barber Shop players knocked out 24 hits and scored 18 runs to knock Rotron out of the Blue Division lead with an 18-14 win. The Interdivisional tilt moved the Barbors to within a 1/2 game of the White Division lead.

In a Red-White game, South Side topped Ted's Esso, 9-5.

Bob Campbell had four hits and two runs batted in for Michael's. Jerry O'Leary had a single, triple and three ribbys. Joe Farrell also had two hits and three ribbys for the winners. Mike Buley had a triple, single and two ribbys, while Fred Taylor had two singles and two ribbys for the losers.

Mike Brady led South Side with two singles, a double and two runs batted in, while Chuck Schirmer contributed three ribbys.

Florie LoReau had two hits for the losers.

Grover and Darling Upset Sykes-Nelson

KINGSTON
Maggie Grover and Elinor Darling staged the upset of the tournament thus far as they defeated the number three seeded team of Judy Sykes and Davy Nelson, 7-5, 5-7, 6-4 in the women's doubles division of the Ulster County Tennis Championship. The match was played yesterday at Forsyth Park.

Pressure was the name of the game and the winners kept it on, combining fine net play with good placement shots. The Grover-Darling team will be looking for another "minor miracle" today as they face the number one seed, Ruth Goldin and Kitty Samuels, at Forsyth Park, Wednesday, at 3 p.m.

In women's singles, number three seed Kitty Samuels moved another step closer to a match with defending champion, Kitty Fowler, as she topped Davy Nelson, 6-3, 6-0. Samuels next match is set for tomorrow night against Daisy Beal at 5:30 p.m.

Bill Zeeh and Judy Hevesi, ranked third in the mixed doubles, downed Barbara Fite and Mike Coraman, 6-1, 6-0, while the number two seed, Dick Smith and Kitty Samuels, won over Peg and Chip Grover, 6-1, 6-0. The two teams will meet in a semi-final struggle at Forsyth Park, Wednesday, at 3 p.m.

Barringer, Uhl Top SBL Scorers

KINGSTON
Bert Henderson, Ron Lindsey and Mel Williams each poured in 16 points to lead Blue Gardenia to a 66-35 win over Joe's in the City Summer Basketball League.

In other action Forsyth, led by Joe Uhl's 24 points defeated Hub Delicatessen 62-44. George Seville led the Hub with 14 points.

The Hookers edged Loughran 55-52 in the nitecap. Fred Barringer led the Hookers with 19 points and Ted Wood posted 15 points for Loughran.

Ricky Gray's 12 points was high for Joe's.

One Injured In Marbletown

TOWN OF MARBLETOWN A car-truck accident at approximately 9 a.m. Monday on Lucas Avenue Extension in the Town of Marbletown near the Rosendale Elementary School, sent the operator of the car, David Royce, 37, of Kerhonkson, to Kingston Hospital with multiple abrasions of the forehead, both elbows, knees and the left forearm.

According to Trooper J. C. Mikesh, who investigated, the car and the tractor-trailer, owned by Feuer Transportation Inc., Yonkers, and operated by James Armano, 56, of Poughkeepsie, were traveling north on Lucas Turnpike Extension when Royce attempted to pass the truck. The car went off the left side of the road, struck four guard rails, doing extensive damage to the car, and then returned to the road, crossing the center line and striking the truck with the right front fender. The car then spun around 180 degrees and came to rest facing south in the passing lane.

Minor damage was reported to the truck, and Royce, who was removed by Fatum's Ambulance, told troopers he passed out as he was passing the truck.

Dear Abby

His Humor Upsets Her

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
(© 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: Last New Year's Eve my boss proposed marriage. I accepted but he didn't offer me a ring. (In fact, he said he couldn't afford it right now. Well, I keep his books, and I know he can!) I thought he'd surprise me with a ring for Valentine's Day, but instead he gave me a big heart-shaped box of candy. Then came Easter, and I expected the "Easter bunny" to bring me a diamond, but I got a LIVE rabbit, which bit me, and I got an infection.

Yesterday a package came to the office addressed to ME, and insured for $25. I opened it and it was a SET of rings ordered from a mail order catalog. I didn't know whether to laugh or cry.

I don't know yet if this is his idea of a joke or not. Am I officially engaged? And what should I do?

SYLVIA
DEAR SYLVIA: If you accepted his proposal of marriage, you are officially "engaged," ring or no ring. And if you plan on marrying this clown, you'd better develop a sense of humor and learn to live on love and a tight budget.

DEAR ABBY: A young teenager girl, signed "SEEKING THE TRUTH," asked you what was wrong with premarital sex. You copied out with your answer when you replied that among other good reasons for abstaining was the fear of an unwanted pregnancy. You even pointed out that in spite of the pill, the illegitimacy rate had not been reduced.

Well I am sorry to disagree with you, Abby, but as a married friend once told me, "fear of pregnancy never stopped anyone; it only makes them worry afterwards."

Sincerely yours,
BEAVER DAM, WIS.
DEAR BEAVER: Sorry to disagree with your friend, but the fear of pregnancy has stopped plenty of people. But unfortunately, it's not stopping nearly enough.

DEAR ABBY: A girl wrote to say that her high school days were the unhappiest days of her life, and she listed her reasons. She never knew what to wear. She had to sit in the back of the bus with all the hoodlums because when she got on, the other seats were filled, and she couldn't do a damned thing about it when they got fresh because she was too embarrassed to tell the driver what they said. She said all the "high class" kids looked down on her because her parents were "foreigners." Then she ends up by saying she is in college, now, and is glad those miserable high school days are over.

Well, Abby, let me tell her about my high school days. I didn't have to worry about what to wear because I had one dress and one pair of holey shoes with cardboard in the soles. And where to sit on the "bus" was no problem for me, because I WALKED 3 miles to school and back in rain, sleet and snow. And I wore a thin hand-me-down spring coat in 20 below zero weather.

The "high class" kids looked down on me, too. But not because my parents were "foreigners." They were worse than that. My father was an American Indian which made me a half-breed, and my mother was a divorcee, which was really a disgrace in those days. And as if that wasn't bad enough, I was left-handed, for which I was punished daily.

So there I was, a poor, left-handed half-breed with a divorced mother. I had to fight my way to school every day. But I suffered in silence because that was the code of the Indian.

I never made it to college although I was offered a scholarship. Instead I had to go to work to help support the family.

With all of this, I'd have to say high school was the happiest time of my life. Just wait until you get out into the business world with its cutthroat competition. Then you'll look back and remember how good your school days were.

LOOKING BACK
What's your problem? You'll

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

HUSBAND HUNT: (Q.) My mother wants me to be a nice girl. She talks about it all the time, and says if I stay a nice girl I can marry when I'm 18. I am 16 now.

I had planned to marry one boy, but we have moved to another town and I've met another boy I like. I really believe I would rather marry him than the first boy. But my mother wants to keep me a nice girl and won't let me date him.

How can I find out if he's the right one to marry if I can't go with him?—Nice Girl in Alabama.

(A.) You are too young at 16 to be hunting so seriously for someone to marry. You are unwise in arbitrarily setting the age of 18 as the time you will be married.

Your mother probably realizes this. But she is overprotective in not letting you have dates at 16. You should be dating interesting and decent boys you like.

But your dates at 16 should be for friendship and fun and getting acquainted rather than for picking out a husband to marry in two years.

CHANGE: (Q.) I have a real good friend. We have been friends since we were little girls. Lately, though, we are not as good friends as we used to be.

She met a new girl and now she pays me no attention. What's wrong? Please help!—Friend Lost in Michigan.

(A.) Nothing is wrong. Our circle of friends usually enlarges and changes as we grow older. Your old friend's circle is changing and, I trust, enlarging.

It is time for you to change and enlarge your circle. Find new friends. Several. Not just one.

Shortest TV Season Is Near

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Inflation, rising costs, the economic squeeze and the loss of cigarette advertising are combining to make the upcoming television season the shortest ever.

The average series will have only 24 original shows. Some will have as few as 22, while a few lucky series will run as long as 26 weeks before going into reruns.

This means that the season will run out sometime in March, the exact week depending on whether the networks pad the time by dropping in a special or two.

Not only are high costs whittling away the number of shows, but some producers are having to cut corners in other ways, such as fewer sets, fewer location shooting and smaller casts.

Just 10 years ago a half-hour show such as "Richard Diamond" could be brought in for $39,000. Producer Bob Claver said "The Partridge Family" is costing $108,000 an episode. "That's a lot of bread when you think 'Diamond' was done for under $40,000," he said.

Eleven years ago, when "Bonanza" began, it cost $114,000, which was expensive then because it was the first program filmed entirely in color. This season it will cost $215,000 a show.

Hal Holbrook, starring in "The Senator," said budget restrictions are forcing some compromises in casting on the show. "The administrative staff is what keeps a senator going, but we can't cast as many assistants as we'd like to," he said.

Producer Aaron Ruben said Andy Griffith's new show, "Headmaster," is "costing at least a third more than Andy's original show 10 years ago. We have to hold down in some places. We don't show the whole faculty; there's no need to. We don't show all the students; there's no reason for that, either."

The ban on cigarette commercials, ordered by Congress effective Jan. 1, will mean a $226 million loss to the industry and a $150 million loss to the networks alone.

The rising cost of television programming is due to several factors, the most important of which is the cost of labor. Some new equipment and techniques are being introduced, but for the most part films—including television shows—are still being made the way they were 30 years ago.

Another reason is that the audience today demands a more sophisticated show and the extras cost money.

Aaron Spelling, who is producing three series and 10 movies for ABC, said, "We used to do 39 shows a year. Then 33. This year everybody's cut back to 24. That's false economy. It's saving money for the sponsors and the networks, but it's costing the actors and writers. That's two less scripts on every series. What happens a few years from now when it's cut back to 22 or 20?"

Cynthia Lowry is on vacation.

Economy Report to Nation

Nixon Reiterates... Future Is Bright

PRESIDENT CHATS WITH NEWSMEN (UPI TELEPHOTO)

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, in what has become an almost daily routine, said again today the economy is sure of brighter days ahead—although the silver cloud may have a black lining of high unemployment.

The latest assessment came after President Nixon vowed Monday to veto any strong trade bills imposing quotas on any imports except textiles. Nixon said such mandatory quotas on other products could touch off a global trade war.

Secretary of Labor James F. Hodgson told the Joint Economic Committee of Congress today the nation is moving out of its worst inflationary period in 20 years. He predicted in prepared testimony slower price hikes and real economic growth in the months ahead.

At the same time, he said, the nation is continuing its shift from wartime production to a peacetime economy. The changeover will continue to pose some unemployment problems, he said.

His remarks were prepared for delivery before the Joint Economic Committee.

Nixon, at an impromptu news conference Monday in his oval office, said he would veto the trade bill now before the House Ways and Means Committee if it contained provisions he did not recommend.

"Mandatory quota legislation is not in the interest of the United States," he said. "We are an exporting nation rather than an importing nation. It would mean in the end, while it would save some jobs it would cost us more jobs in exports that would be denied us."

He said he only agreed to import ceiling on textiles after negotiations with Japan to set voluntary limits broke off after 16 months.

Paul W. McCracken, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, predicted improved business conditions in the second half of the year in testimony Monday before the committee.

George P. Shultz, director of the Office of Management and Budget, said he expects the unemployment rate to be about 5 per cent or slightly under on Sept. 1.

"The economic slowdown has resulted in job cutbacks and shifts in many sectors of the economy," Hodgson said.

But despite a drop of some 400,000 defense jobs in the past year and the highest unemployment rate in five years, he expressed confidence the economy is basically healthy.

There is no indication of any future drastic increase in unemployment, he declared.

"We now have an unemployment rate hovering near 5 per cent and an average period of unemployment of nine and one-half weeks. The twin objectives of cooling the fires of inflation and shifting to a peacetime economy have produced this circumstance," he said.

"Since both of these objectives are considered meritorious by the vast majority of Americans, their pursuit is worth some discomfort," he said.

But Hodgson added the government is doing everything it can to ease the burden of unemployment. He urged Congress to enact Nixon administration proposals to provide more aid to the jobless.

McCracken predicted the unemployment rate would continue to rise through the end of the year.

Shultz said workers in the aerospace industries would be especially hard hit. He said defense spending cutbacks had already forced the industry to lay-off 700,000 individuals since early 1969 and predicted there would be a "direct impact" on another 1.3 million by mid-1971.

Shultz, however, did not predict 2 million persons would lose jobs. They would only be directly affected, but administration officials conceded some would be laid off.

McCracken suggested the Federal Reserve System adopt a substantially more liberal monetary policy to permit expansion of the economy.

On the problem of rising prices which have jumped at a rate of 6 per cent annually for more than a year Hodgson said there is considerable evidence the pressures are easing.

He said productivity of workers in the second quarter of this year recovered to a growth rate of about 4 per cent a year after declining for a number of months.

He said a slower rise in wholesale prices in recent months indicated a beginning of a slower rise in consumer living costs.

Saigon Gets Administration Reassurance

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon says the leaders of South Vietnam are willing to share their government with the Communists, provided such a coalition results from a free election.

At the same time Nixon reassured Saigon his administration is not about to negotiate a deal that would force a coalition government before such elections could be held.

Nixon told an unscheduled news conference in his office Monday South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu had indicated the Communists could participate in free elections and he has also indicated that he would accept the result of an election, whatever that result might be.

Nixon's surprise news conference came on the eve of today's 3 p.m. EDT meeting of the National Security Council at which Vietnam was the main topic under consideration. Nixon's new ambassador to the Paris talks, David K. E. Bruce, and his ambassador to Saigon, Ellsworth Bunker, were called home to participate.

Nixon said Bruce was given "new instructions" and would have "great latitude to discuss all of the proposals that we have made both in public and in private sessions to the North Vietnamese and the VC (Viet Cong)."

In other matters Nixon: —Threatened to veto the import-restricting trade bill if it emerges from congress with quotas on imports other than textiles.

—Said inflation has "cooled" and his advisers now foresee "an increase in productivity and an upturn in the economy."

—Said the United States has not announced a decision on Israel's request for more war planes because it wants its current peace initiative to have "every chance to succeed."

—Promised he would not send "vigilante squads" of Justice Department lawyers into the South to oversee school desegregation.

—Doubted an end to the Vietnam war would automatically bring peace to the nation's campuses, as his commission on campus unrest has been told. "I want peace on the campus," he said, "but my major obligation is to adopt policies that I consider will bring peace to the world."

Cambodians Battle to Save Training Center

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—Cambodian troops battled to keep Communist units from capturing one of the government's main military training centers northwest of Phnom Penh today in one of the 10 clashes reported from all sides of the city.

Guerrilla soldiers attacked the center at Romeas, 40 miles from the capitol, Monday under an intense mortar barrage but, military spokesman said, were held at bay throughout the night and into this morning by the government defenders.

The government of Premier Lon Nol is using the Romeas training center in its attempt to mold an effective army from rag-tag volunteers and draftees. The army is low on both arms and ammunition.

Military spokesman in Phnom Penh said Cambodian troops had recaptured an outpost at Srang, 30 miles southwest of the capital, and had cleared the mountain resort at Kirrom, 56 miles south-southwest of the city, in fighting Monday.

Cambodian troops were reported launching a sweep around Kirrom, the resort town held by the Communists for six days until last Thursday, following a guerrilla attack from Chateau d'Etat, the former retreat of ousted Prince Norodom Sihanouk.

Spokesmen listed other clashes near Kompong Thom southwest of Phnom Penh, near Svay Rieng east of the capital, and on the banks of Tonle Sap, the lake northwest of the city. The South Vietnamese fought the biggest battle near the Cambodian town of Tuk Meas about 140 miles west-southwest of Saigon, killing 52 Red troops and capturing 23 weapons, spokesmen said. The South Vietnamese said they lost three dead and 11 wounded.

Later Monday, spokesmen said, South Vietnamese militiamen backed by armored vehicles killed 28 more Communist troops in fighting near the South Vietnamese border town of Tinh Bien, 115 miles west-southwest of Saigon. Government casualties were two wounded.

In a third battle near Chipou in the Parrot's Beak sector of Cambodia 45 miles west of Saigon, other South Vietnamese troops killed 27 Communist soldiers while suffering 17 wounded, spokesmen said.

Reports from Phnom Penh said guerrillas had burned the government outpost at Srang, 30 miles southwest of the Cambodian capital, and still held the village.

The Cambodians reported continued pressure on the highway between Phnom Penh and the nation's only deepwater port at Kompong Som on the Gulf of Thailand.

Allied communiques reported light and scattered action in South Vietnam Monday.

A U. S. Marine patrol killed 10 North Vietnamese soldiers late Monday, in a firefight 23 miles south-southwest of Da Nang. The Marines were supported by helicopter gunships, and there were no American casualties.

A terrorist grenade exploded Monday night against a house at the hamlet of Vinh Hanh, about five miles southwest of Saigon. Spokesmen said the blast killed one Vietnamese civilian and wounded nine.

Communist gunners Monday night and early today shelled eight targets in South Vietnam with rockets or mortar fire. No major cities were listed among the targets.

S. Vietnamese Government To Demolish 'Tiger Cages'

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government said today it will demolish the so-called "tiger cages" at the Con Son Island prison and replace them with new disciplinary cells.

The cells, center of international controversy since two U.S. congressmen revealed their existence two weeks ago, will be dismantled immediately, a spokesman said.

About 9,000 prisoners are held at Con Son, 140 miles southeast of Saigon in the South China Sea. Many are political prisoners, and several hundred of these have been confined to "tiger cages," small cells open only at the top in which three to seven persons are confined.

The new cells, said Information Ministry spokesman Nguyen Ngoc Huyen, "will not be the same. They will be different. They will be better ones."

The tiger cages were first used by the French colonial administration in the mid-19th century, and the Saigon government said last year they had been abandoned. But Reps. Augustus Hawkins, D-Calif., and William R. Anderson, D-Tenn., managed to see them and the prisoners in them when they visited the island prison.

Their disclosures set off an international outcry, in the Western world as well as from Communist nations. All condemned the South Vietnamese government for its treatment of the prisoners and the United States was criticized because it furnishes financial aid and American advisers to the South Vietnamese.

In reply to the criticism, a spokesman for the Saigon government said those confined to the cages were Communist incorrigibles who had not reformed properly to the prison re-education process.

Plight of Migrant Worker: Many Questions, Few Answers

A migrant camp is a microcosm of nearly every social ill... every injustice... and everything shameful in our society: Poverty almost beyond belief, rampant disease and malnutrition, racism, filth and squalor, pitiful children drained of pride and hope, exploitation and powerlessness, and the inability or unwillingness of public and private institutions at all levels to erase this terrible blight on our country."

Sen. Walter F. Mondale

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Few deny the plight of the migrant worker and his children is a blight on society, but nobody seems to be able to do anything about it.

Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., chairman of a subcommittee which has investigated and reported on migrant farm workers for years, concedes he has no answer. But he's still looking.

In current hearings his subcommittee listened as Dr. Raymond M. Wheeler asked: "What has to be done to convince the Congress of the United States, the most powerful group of men in the world, that the time has come to put aside its greed, its prejudice, its concern for personal power and prestige—and to be concerned for the kind of society in which our children must live together?"

"You challenge us, and I can't answer," Mondale replied. "We pass laws that are minimal, but even they are not enforced. If there is anything expendable in American society, it's the migrants, although they crawl on their bellies to produce the food for this country."

Mondale had just heard a recital of health and living conditions of migrants in Hidalgo County, Tex., by Wheeler and Dr. Harry S. Lipscomb of the Baylor College of Medicine, Houston.

The two led a team of 25 doctors and health technicians on a field survey of how migrants live. They found the conditions so bad they set up a clinic for four days, treating 1,400 persons heretofore without medical care.

Here is a sample of Lipscomb's report to Mondale: "Intestinal parasites were the rule. We personally saw under the microscope pinworms, hook worms, round worms, amoeba, often occurring in combination in a single patient, and invariably occurring in several members of the same family when present in one. Of the eight drinking-water sources which we cultured, six were contaminated with with fecal organisms."

1st Abort Death Under New Law

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York City medical examiner revealed the first reported death as a result of a legal abortion since the abortion reform law went into effect July 1.

In a statement Monday, Examiner Milton Helsen said on Sunday, July 12, Mrs. Carmen Rodriguez slipped into a coma during her abortion at Lincoln Hospital and died four days later. The event touched off a demonstration by the militant Young Lords at the Bronx hospital.

According to Helsen, Mrs. Rodriguez had been "aborted in the manner planned" but suffered a reaction to a salt solution used in the procedure. The woman had a history of rheumatic fever and the heart ailment was "a contributory cause to her death," he said.

Friday, the Young Lords, a Puerto Rican activist group, occupied the hospital's school of nursing for 12 hours, charging that the hospital was "only a butcher shop that kills patients and frustrates workers from serving these patients."

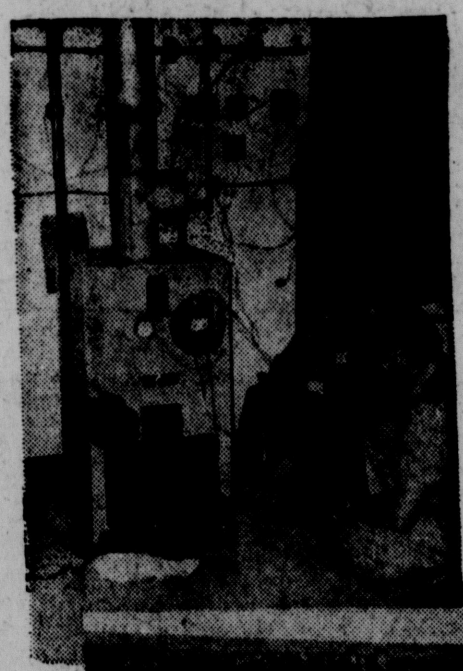

There was no comment from the hospital's administration pending a review of the report.

To Bring You 'Home Comfort'

Servicemen Study The Science of OIL HEATING...

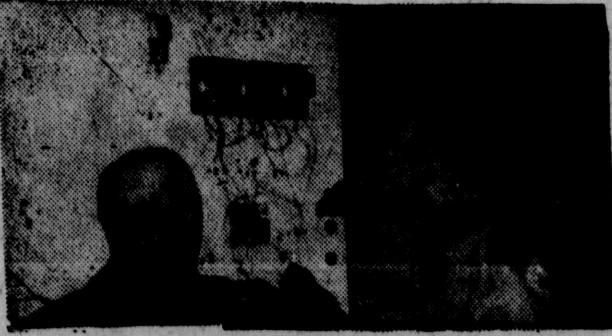

When your oil burner serviceman goes to school to learn more about such technical things as combustion, draft control, nozzle adjustment, vaporization, stack control, thermostats, what he really is doing is learning more about HOME COMFORT.

Your heating oil serviceman has received expert instruction in oil burner technology and, with periodic training, continually keeps up with the latest developments so that you will enjoy to the fullest the comfort, economy and dependability of modern oil heating and cooling equipment.

Many local service technicians have recently completed a 10-weeks course in oil heating sponsored by the Hudson Valley Oil Heat Council, and this is but one of several courses conducted throughout the year to keep him abreast of this vital, fast-growing industry.

Remember, you can put your confidence in oil heat. Your heating oil supplier will see to that!

Primo Calabrese, service manager for a local heating oil supplier, teaches both theory and practice in a summer course in oil-burner technology.
